Telebus Operators Mull Over Many Problems As Renewal of Service Here Remains Stalled

The Telebus remains in the Drapers' garage, service still suspended.

A meeting Monday night between Township and Borough officials, and Paul and Nance-ellen Draper, owners of Telebus, was supposed to produce some answers to the Drapers' financial problem. ("An immediate increase is necessary," they say, because of drastic increases in fuel, repair parts, phone equipment and the physical impossibility of carrying the necessary number of people a day." They want to increase the fare from 50 cents to $1, and would like more flexibility in scheduling.)

But nobody from the Borough showed up Monday night. Vacation and business schedules kept everybody from the mayor on down, away from the meeting. So Township Committee members---all of whom were present---talked with the Drapers, examined the partial financial reports they had, and listened to the case.

"Let's clear up a few things," said Mrs. Draper in a lengthy statement. "We are not perfect and still have a lot to learn, but we are trying and are also getting to people not reached by any other transportation."

"We fought for two years to get permission to operate what we felt was a greatly needed service in Princeton," she said, and she went on to list the frustrations she says the Drapers have encountered.

Revive Crosstown 62? Crosstown '62 is one. That station-wagon service for the elderly, run by the Red Cross, was ended when Telebus began, on the theory that the Drapers' dial-a-ride service would meet the need. Mrs. Draper cites a $5,000 cost for operating Crosstown '62 for three months---"taxpayers' money"---and remarks that about 12 people were carried in the station-wagon between 10 a.m. and 3 p.m. daily.

"The Red Cross wrote a very nice letter to all the Crosstown '62 riders asking them to give us a try, which I appreciate. We have many of these riders enjoying our service, although some do not..."

"According to the Red Cross, there were approximately 300 persons signed up for Crosstown. I planned to contact each person on the list to make our service more personal, and to find out from them how we could best accommodate them."

"When we tried to get names and phone numbers of Crosstown users, the Red Cross said they could not give us the list because it was unethical. When I mentioned this to Borough Council, they said I must be mistaken. Here it is four months later and I still must be mistaken and I still have not received this liast from the Red Cross. I would understand, if we had not been ASKED to take over this service."

Critics have said a Telebus fare increase would deprive the elderly of transportation. Mrs. Draper said that almost a year ago, "I asked Borough, Township and Transportation committees if they would take the initiating action for half-fare cards for senior citizens. So far, no results."

The Aesthetic Viewpoint. The Drapers have suggested that one way to finance Telebus would be through advertisements on the outside of their Mercedes vehicle.

"'No! No! No!' was the answer. 'It will look terrible'" Mrs. Draper reports. "It could not look any worse than the outside advertising on the Loop and Shuttle buses, advertising 7-Up. As a taxpayer, I am supporting those buses to the tune of $32,000 for a 90-day trial period---my own competition. They are trying to get Federal funds for a failing bus system carrying 2.8 people per hour, or 1.4 people per bus. And these buses are allowed outside ads, which I cannot have."

The Drapers were invited to bid for both Loop and Shuttle service.

"We thought it was a great idea," Mrs. Draper recalled. "We would not be stepping on the toes of the taxi people, who were unhappy about the dial-a-ride system. As you know, they are suing us, the Borough, the Township, the Department of Transportation, Mayor Cawley, Council members Sigmund and Powell, etc. etc. etc."

The Drapers were low bidders, but Mrs. Draper said, could not run the services because "we were not a bus company. We would run the shuttle free to the taxpayer, keeping only the fares--but, yes you guessed it: we were not a bus company."

Cooperation Lacking. When Telebus was approached by the Fete committee of the Medical Center "to help with the normally chaotic traffic situtation the day of the Fete, West Windsor gave us permission to carry people from Princeton...but Borough and Township officials said 'no,' we could not do that, and not even a reason why we could not."

Mrs. Draper referred to bus lettering, which had to be changed on short notice because of the confusion between Telebus and dial-a-ride, and she added, "...a meeting we were told we did not have to attend because everything was in order and finding out the next day application was not approved."

Under Borough and Township ordinances, the Drapers must start at 7 a.m., and Mrs. Draper said this was uneconomical, especially in summer. Stores do not open until close to 10 a.m., she pointed out, and "we are now forced to run with light or no traffic at all, paying a driver to sit from 7 a.m. until 10."

Also, they would like more flexibility for Saturday, a day when they say they have a loss because of decreased business.

"The only thing I am asking is that instead of regulating our hours, regulating our days, regulating our fares, regulating our chance for extra revenue to help keep this a low-cost transportation, why don't you let us decide for ourselves?"

"Certainly," she concluded, "someone else has noticed the increase in fuel, electricity and repair parts."

REFERENDUM? NO On CBD. A dozen or so picketing residents of the Spring-Tulane Street area failed to convince Borough Council last Wednesday night that the Central Business District proposals ought to be submitted to public referendum in November.

Council voted down, 5-1, the resolution for such a referendum proposed by Councilman Martin P. Lombardo.

Council has applied to both the Federal Bureau of Outdoor Recreation and the state for money to buy the Spruce Street quarry area for a public park. However, Charles LaPlaca, owner of the property, says the Princeton Ventures company has an option to buy his land for construction of the 32 controversial town house units.

Until the Borough can decide whether to talk with Mr. LaPlaca or with the hopful developer, negotiations on acquiring the site for a park are at a halt. Princeton Ventures' principal is Harold Wachtel, a resident of north Jersey. Other members of the company are Mr. Wachtle's associates and are not Princeton area residents.

Curbing Approved. By a 5-1 vote, Council adopted the ordinance authorizing a curb for the portion of Lafayette Road that will be repaved. Four of the seven property owners on the street protest the curb, and Councilman Lombardo voted "no" in light of these four objections. Donald Harney, Borough engineer, told Council curbs were needed on reconstructed streets to protect the edges from deterioration.

The $39,760 contract for reconstructing Washington Road from Nassau south to the Township line, was awarded to Agabiti Brothers. The Borough expects about $35,000 in state aid for the project.

Although specifications were sent to four bidders, only one replied with a bid. Mr. Lombardo suggested a re-bidding in the hope that others would bid next time, but Council decided to make the award. As of May 1, firms must pay the minimum wage if the project is financed with any state aid. It was suggested that other firms did not bid because they pay below the minimum wage and would not be able to meet state requirements.

the intersection of the Princeton-Kingston Road, Snowden Lane and Riverside Drive West. Giovanni A. Ferrante, of Ridge Road, Kingston, was admitted last Tuesday with a cerebral concussion, multiple abrasions and contusions and facial cuts.

Township Patrolman James Vandermark, who investigated the 4:30 p.m. accident, reported that Mr. Ferrante was cycling east on the Princeton Kingston Road when a car driven by Irving Heitmer, 55, of 14 Phillip Drive, struck him from the side. The bike and rider were thrown 26 feet by the impact.

The police report said that Mr. Heitmer had stopped at Snowden Lane and was trying to cross the road into Riverside Drive West at the time of the accident. "Traffic was heavy and when I was sure no cars were coming I crossed the intersection," Mr. Heitmer was quoted as saying. "I did not see the bicycle coming until the collision was unavoidable."

Patrolman Vandermark reported that traffic was heavy but that Mr. Ferrante's bicycle, a bright yellow, 10-speed Peugot, should have been visible. The officer charged Mr. Heitmer with failure to yield at an intersection.

Frelinghuysen Among 15 Named As Vice-Presidential Possibility

Rep Peter H B Frelinghuysen, the Republican Congressman from the Fifth New Jersey District which includes this portion of Mercer County, is among some 15 men mentioned as President Ford's possible choice to succeed him as the nation's Vice President From his Washington office, Mr Frelinghuysen this week issued the following statement on the momentous events of the past few days

Rep. Peter Frelinghuysen

By resigning his office, President Nixon has performed a great service to his country.

To allow the constitutional process of impeachment to grind on for months, with an unfavorable outcome certain, would have only deepened the Watergate paralysis of our government, and the personal anguish of the First Family and their friends. History will record this President as one who has made enormously significant contributions towards world peace and who, in this time of deep national difficulty, voluntarily relinquished his office in the best interests of the nation.

I have the utmost confidence in our next President, Gerald Ford. On the day of Mr. Agnew's resignation I recommended Mr. Ford as his successor.

Having known Mr. Ford since law school days, and on the basis of over twenty years working with him in the House, I am certain he will make an excellent President. He is experienced, broad-minded, hard-working, and vigorous, and he represents the highest degree of personal character and integrity.

The task before the nation now is to unite in a common effort to restore stability and confidence to government.

and to move forward from our preoccupation with the recent events to the problems we face as a people. I am most optimistic about our ability to achieve these goals under the leadership of President Ford.

Both as Republican leader in the House and as Vice-President, Mr. Ford has demonstrated a capacity to reconcile different points of view and to develop a sense of partnership to achieve a common purpose. He will bring these same qualities to the Oval Office, and with our support, our nation will remain strong and great.

POSTPONEMENT

In Quinby Hearing. Testimony will resume September 6 on state charges that Frank Quinby, former Township engineer and now an engineer in private practice in West Windsor, falsified percolation tests on seven lots in the Princeton Manor subdivision in West Windsor.

Percolation tests show how rapidly water seeps through the ground, and are essential in questions relating to disposal of septic wastes. Mr. Quinby's case is before the New Jersey Board of Professional Engineers and Land Surveyors. It is charged that the engineer took as many as 15 percolation tests before achieving results that would allow construction of homes.

Last week, Richard Mabry, geotechnical engineer who is chief witness for the state, testified that Mr. Quinby reported "grossly inconsistent" soil descriptions and tests. Mr. Mabry said he had himself conducted percolation tests on two of the seven lots named in the charges against Mr. Quinby.

According to his results, water would take 400 minutes up to one year, to percolate down one inch, he said. Mr. Quinby's results had shown 32 to 38 minutes per inch.

Mr Mabry testified that the impermeable soild kept septic wastes from seeping ioto the ground. Many residents of Princeton Manor's $50,000 homes have complained of inaddquate drainage, flooding and sewage problems.

Thomas Jamieson, attorney for Mr. Quinby, pointed out that only three lots had been shown to be failures because of clay-like soil. "If there is clay under all the lots in the subdivision, how can this be?" he asked. The chairman of the hearing declined to allow Mr. Jamieson to compare soil descriptions of the lots under question with descriptions of other lots in the subdivision.

Mr. Jamieson also told the hearing board that the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Mercer County soil map describes underground soil conditions which are generally supportive of Mr. Quinby's data.

TALKS STILL STALLED

In Police Negotiations. Although a flicker of optimism was visible early this week, the solid evidence in the continuing negotiations between the Borough and Township police and their respective municipalities indicates no reason to be optimistic about an imminent settlement.

"We are as far apart as we were last November when we began this thing," said Patrolman Bernard Lenhardt, one of the members of the Borough police negotiating team. "I'd have to agree with that," said Borough Administrator Robert Mooney. The point is apparently one of very few on which they can agree.

The Township negotiations may be a different matter, but if they are no one is coming forward to say so. Considered to be at an impasse just two weeks ago, Township police headquarters were awash with rumors this Monday of a possible settlement. "They're meeting Tuesday morning and that should do it," said one patrolman.

Tuesday morning came and went with little news–none of it good. "I can't comment publicly at this time," said Administrator Joseph Nini. "We don't want to negotiate through the newspaper. We have not arrived at a settlement."

Another meeting was not scheduled. "We've been getting together on a weekly basis, so I'm sure we'll be arranging another meeting pretty soon," said Mr. Nini. When asked about Monday's optimism, he replied, "Yes, we were all optimistic–and we still are."

'Kind of Bleak.' Patrolman William Potts, chairman of the Township negotiating team, was out of reach Tuesday afternoon, but another patrolman said, "They made no headway whatsoever. It looks kind of bleak right now."

The source of the optimism in the Township was the belief among some officials that the only issue to be settled was that of base salary and that the Township was prepared to raise its offer. The police had been demanding 8.5 percent; the Township holding at 7.75.

The same patrolman, however, who had not participated in Tuesday's meeting but who had talked to Patrolman Potts about the outcome, said that other issues were still unresolved–primarily that of longevity increases.

Sources around the Borough police, meanwhile, were knee-deep in rumors of possible job actions if the negotiations continued to be fruitless. Patrolman Lenhardt said that a mandatory meeting of the Police Benevolent Association Local 130, which is affiliated with both the Borough and Township police, would be held later this week.

He refused to say whether or not a job action was planned. "We will make a decision at the meeting about possible action," he said, refusing to say whether or not that "action" would be a "job action." Patrolman Lenhardt added, "We will discuss a course of action and we will announce what that is to the press next week."

The principal issue in the Borough negotiations is base pay. The police want a 10.5 percent increase; the Borough will go 7.75. Police also want a more comprehensive medical and health plan, one that would apply also to retired members of the force; actual pay for overtime instead of compensatory time off; and an increase in the number of paid holidays.

"On the overtime issue all we are asking for is what the state law says ought to be," said Patrolman Lenhardt. "We're not being ridiculous. We're just trying to be fair."

Mr. Mooney, the administrator, said the police were not being realistic in their demands, and were not encouraging progress in the talks. "Everytime something seems to be nearly settled, then Schragger (PBA attorney Frederick Schragger) throws a monkey wrench into the issue."

Dry Cleaning. One such wrench, Mr. Mooney said, has been the longevity issue, in which the police are demanding that the base pay be increased at a faster rate for extended years of service. Another was whether the police or the Borough would pay for the dry cleaning of shirts. "We've told them over and over we're not going to dry clean those shirts," said Mr. Mooney.

Mr. Mooney said that the current longevity schedule was intiated by the Borough for the police "long before there was any PBA negotiating committee around." He said that the police wanted the best and most expensive health care plan available, "which is nice if you can get it."

On the issue of overtime pay rather than compensatory time off, Mr. Mooney said, "That gives you an idea of how many days the police already have off."

No meeting was currently scheduled between the police and Borough officials, Mr. Mooney said. The Monday morning meeting lasted 15 minutes, the administrator said, at which time the police walked out when they saw the Borough would not increase its offers.

QUIET, PLEASE

Or Else! For the first time that Police Chief Michael Carnevale can recall, the noisy person section of the Borough's anti-noise ordinance has been enforced.

The defendant is William Blackburn, 48, who was arrested at 12:35 Tuesday morning near the corner of Olden and Nassau streets. A resident of Olden had called police earlier to complain about a man carrying on in a noisy manner.

Two police officers were dispatched to the scene, according to Chief Carnevale, and

Bus Service for Elderly

Telebus service for elderly residents of Borough and Township is now being provided on the same basis as the former Crosstown 62 service.

In a late development this week, Township Mayor Jay Bleiman announced that Telebus will provide transportation to elderly citizens who call 924-2116 and make reservations. The service will operate from 10 to 3 daily.

Passengers must make reservations 24 hours in advance. The fare is 50 cents.

Proceeds from Landau's Rummage Sale Will Benefit Princeton Medical Center

People who know Princeton know Landau's semi-annual end-of-season rummage sale. But this year the event will take on a special meaning for everyone who lives within the service area of The Medical Center at Princetown, because the Landau family will contribute the proceeds from the final sale day to The Medical Center.

What will happen is this: on Friday, August 23, the regular rummage sale will be run. But instead of cutting prices throughout the day until all of the merchandise is gone, as has been the custom, the remaining merchandise will be held over until Saturday. Saturday morning at 9:30, the doors will open for the sale of all remaining spring and summer merchandise at further reduced prices.

Salespeople that day will be hospital volunteers. A set sum will be deducted from the day's sales to finance the August 8th picnic for senior citizens; the remainder will benefit the hospital.

The idea began with Robert Landau's desire to contribute something to the community which has helped his family's 20-year business to grow. Belief that it's better to act "while the acting's good" led to the decision to help the community through The Medical Center.

"We always used to make donations to research, etc., when someone died—but that's when it's too late", said Mr. Landau. "The hospital is the one thing that everyone relies on to some degree." He indicated the vital role it plays—or may at any time play—in everyone's life.

Remembering his hospital stay of a year ago, and the "great volunteer service" there, Mr. Landau directed his efforts toward helping the community through this means.

The benefit rummage sale will take place on Saturday morning, August 24, from 9:30 to 1. During the preceding week, part of Landau's window will feature a display representing the services volunteers perform at The Medical Center.

they also observed and heard Mr. Blackburn. He is scheduled to appear in court September 18 to answer the charge.

Mr. Blackburn, whose name has often appeared on police blotters and court dockets with the notation NKA (no known address) this time told police his address is 246 Nassau Street. Last week in Borough Court Mr. Blackburn, NKA, pleaded innocent to a trespassing charge. He was found guilty and ordered to pay $15 plus $10 in costs.

PHONE-Y STORY

Merchant Conned. A man posing as an employee of the New Jersey Bell Telephone Company was admitted into the business office of a Palmer Square store last Saturday and made off with an employee's wallet containing $25 in cash and two checks written for $164 and $120.

"It's a typical kind of rip-off," commented Police Chief Michael Carnevale, "and it might serve notice to other residents and merchants that people constantly try to misrepresent themselves in order to gain entry."

The case was still under investigation.

THREE ARRESTS MADE

At Medical Center. Activities at the Princeton Medical Center kept police busy during the past week.

At 7:22 p.m. Monday police were called to the Medical Center to investigate a disorderly person on the premises. Patrolman Bernard Leahardt arrested Edward Dugger, 46, no known address, and charged him with trespassing and loitering while under the influence of an intoxicating beverage. He is scheduled to appear in court next Wednesday.

About five hours later police assistance was requested to handle a disturbance at the hospital dispensary. Officers Thomas Michaud and Joseph Wilhelm were dispatched to the scene, where they arrested Peter Brennan, 38, of Elizabeth, charged with being a drunk and disorderly person.

Last Wednesday Borough police accompanied two Trenton detectives to the Medical Center, where they arrested an employee, Boyce Clark, 26, of Trenton, on a charge of selling and possessing a controlled, dangerous substance. He was returned to Trenton.

MONDAY NIGHT FIGHT

At John and Clay. Fists apparently flew, and then charges and countercharges flew, as a result of a disagreement Monday night at 5:33 at the corner of John and Clay streets.

Patrolman David Lewis and Detective Charles Harris were called to investigate by Robert Price, 28, of 2 Maple Terrace, who walked into police headquarters with a bloodied face. He said he had been hit by a bottle.

Mr. Price, whose wound was later closed by four stitches, said he had been assaulted by Geurge Kornegay, 21, of 39 Clay Street, and William Teague, 24, of 184 John Street. Mr. Teague broke his right hand in the incident.

Mr. Price signed a complaint against Mr. Kornegay and Mr. Teague for assault and battery, and Mr. Kornegay and Mr. Teague signed a counter-complaint against Mr. Price. All three are scheduled to appear in court next Wednesday.

Another torrential downpour Friday put August's total precipitation far above normal for the first half of the month. At the moment, the Man says, nothing more like that is anticipated.

Instead, relatively high heat and humidity will pose the daily threat of showers, although the forecast does not include any before Friday. High temperature readings in the 80s are expected through the weekend.

This attractive, comfortable and private showroom is now available to you—whether you are an architect, designer, interior decorator, contractor, dealer or customer of any of these professionals.

We can show you or your customers the complete Wenczel line of mounted display boards just as they would be on the walls and floors of bathrooms, kitchens, all-purpose rooms in residential and commercial construction. Wenczel will make a record of your selections—and will keep this on file for your reference. An experienced decorator is on duty to assist when needed.

The Selection Showroom is at our Trenton headquarters, on Klag Avenue. Hours are 9 A.M. to 3 P.M., Monday through Friday. Purchases can be made only through contractors and dealers. The showroom is not a sales outlet.

Borough Dogs Must Be Leashed

This Thursday, August 15, is the day the Borough's new dog-leash law goes into effect.

"It's now on the books and we intend to enforce it," warns Borough Health Officer David Blake.

Here's what you must do if you own a dog:

- Keep your dog on a leash no longer than eight feet, every time the dog is off your property. The animal must also be accompanied by, and under the control of, "a responsible person."
- The law applies 24 hours a day—day and night.
- Cats need not be kept on a leash. But if your cat is found with other cats in an abandoned building, the cat may be taken into custody.
- If someone complains about your dog, you will receive a written notice from Mr. Blake's office. With the complainer, you'll have your day in court in a hearing before Mr Blake. If he decides your dog is "vicious," you'll have to muzzle the animal.
- If your dog is picked up, it will be taken to SAVE on Herrontown Road, and you will have to pay $20 redemption fee to get it back, plus the $4 a day boarding charge. SAVE will accept only animals brought by the police or the Board of Health, so don't pick up your neighbor's animal and think you can short-cut the procedure.

Enforcement will be under the Board of Health. Roger Breese, the Township's dog-control officer, will help out. For his services—estimated at three hours a week to start—the Borough will pay the Township what officials call "a reasonable fee," to be negotiated after everybody has had some experience with the ordinance.

old, along with the 54-year-old who made the sale, all pleaded guilty to an illegal transaction last week in Borough Court. The transaction actually occurred several years ago, before the state lowered the legal drinking age to 18 from 21.

Even though their act would not be an illegal one today, John M. Weber, 21, of 108 Parkside Drive; and Michael Leiggi, 20, of 176 Bayard Lane, were both fined $35 by Magistrate Philip Carchman. Grover C. Tash, of 33½ Lytle Street, was fined $25 for making the sale.

Other Cases. In other Criminal Court action last week:

Leber Mandone, 54, no known address, pleaded guilty to trespassing and was fined $25.

Hilda Ronal, 37, of 8 Horner Lane, pleaded innocent to a charge of passing a bad check and won her case before Judge Carchman.

Eugene Martini, no known address, who last week was charged with making improper advances to three minors, had those charges adjourned for a week in order that an attorney could be appointed to defend him. Four other charges of trespassing were pending against him, however, and he pleaded innocent to them all. The judge found him guilty and fined him a total of $100.

A charge of defrauding an innkeeper made by the manager of Buxton's against James Attenborough, no known address, was dismissed at the request of the complainant.

Traffic Cases. In the Borough's traffic court, Joyce H. Neal, 23, of 165 Witherspoon Street, paid $10 after pleading guilty to a charge by Patrolman David Lewis of improper use of her horn.

Eileen H. Carothers, 17, of 125 Library Place, was fined $20 for disregarding a stop sign. Jeffrey A. Smith, 19, of 38 Pardee Circle, pleaded guilty to a similar charge; he was fined $35 and was ordered to be re-examined for his driver's license.

Speeding Violations. Area residents who received fines for speeding violations included Robert G. Ferrante-Diru, of Ridge Road, Kingston, $35; Mark T. Wyder, 18, Knickerbocker Drive, Belle Mead, $19; Serena Boone, 19, of 31 Greenhouse Drive, $15; and Bruce Campbell, 28, of 37 Wiggins Street, $15.

U-HAUL IT

Thieves Did. Sometime last weekend a thief or thieves broke into the Taylor Rental Service at 775 State Road and drove away in an orange and white U-Haul Ford Econovan. The thieves also stole $25 from the cash register and a bottle of Boone's Farm apple wine from the office refrigerator.

Manager David DeLaurier reported the missing items to Township Police, who submitted the description of the van to the State Police teletype service. The van is a 1969, with Michigan license plate 3013 FE.

Names of 24 Who Died in Service in Southeast Asia to Join List of Princeton Alumni Killed in Action Since Revolution

IN MEMORIAM: Names of war dead are chiseled into the marble of Princeton's Memorial Room in Nassau Hall. Karl Schappeler inscribes the names of those Princeton sons who died during American involvement in Southeast Asia.
(photo by Marie Bellis)

Names of 24 Princeton University alumni who died while in military service during the American involvement in Southeast Asia are being inscribed in the Memorial Room of Nassau Hall.

There, in the marble atrium, Princeton already has memorialized 620 of its "sons" who died in the wars in which this nation has been involved: from the 16 who gave their lives during the Revolution to the 29 of the Korean Conflict.

Above the names is a Latin inscription which translates: "Alma Mater keeps in eternal memory her sons who laid down their lives for their country."

The 24 who died during the Southeast Asian involvement, a period defined by the Department of Defense from January 1, 1961 through August 15, 1973, were from the classes of 1931 through 1969. Nine were killed in Indochina; two were among those lost in the sinking of the USS Scorpion near the Azores; the others gave their lives while in military service in South America, Germany, the Mediterranean and in this country.

The list of names was compiled by Dr. Frederic Fox, Recording Secretary of the University, and he obtained permission from next-of-kin for their inclusion on the memorial. Names will then be gold-leafed as the others have been.

Princeton's Memorial Room was dedicated in 1920, when the names of the 152 men who gave their lives in World War I were inscribed. In addition to those from The Revolution, World War I and Korea, Princeton lost one during the War of 1812, five in the Spanish-American War and 353 in World War II. The names of the 70 Princetonians who fell in the War Between the States are arranged also in alphabetical order—without indication of Union or Confederate allegiance; 35 men fell from each side.

Those now being honored are: John Howard Blake '61, Andre George Broumas (GS '59), Warren Randolph Brundage, Jr. '66, Francis King Carey, II '64, Donald Lee Conard '56, Richard Charles Drewes '55, Roderick Allen Ryles '54, Leland Grisier Gardner, Jr. '61, Joseph Gales Greenleaf '66, David Spencer Hackett '65, Macdonald Brooke Halsey '66, Louis Philip Hamburger, III '62, William Clarke Harwi '61, John S. Hockaday '62.

Edwin Augustus Keeble, Jr. '66, Stranghao Dowoing Kelsey '65, Peter Freeman Lawrence '67, Newell Dwight Lindner '31, David Whittier Morrill (GS '62), Robert George Mundinger '43, Robert Hall Purrington '66, Wilton Strond Pyle '68, Dermod Folster Quinn '69, and William Henry Van Stone, Jr. '68.

B. Kallai, 17, of 14 Hamilton Avenue, who had been driving about three weeks on a permit, went out for a Sunday drive August 4 to sharpen up his skills.

He apparently learned a valuable lesson—not to drive too fast for the conditions of the roadway. As his car proceeded east on Cherry Valley Road toward Hillside Avenue it skidded out of control on the pavement, which was wet from a heavy rainstorm. The car rolled over onto its roof and skidded to a halt upside down.

The driver was uninjured. The car, a 1970 Renault which police said was owned by Brigette Schaeffer, also of 14 Hamilton Avenue, was a total loss.

DRIVER WHEEL-LESS For Six Months. Kenneth W. Rickert, 19, of 25 Monroe Road, pleaded guilty last week in Township court to a charge of driving while his ability was impaired. The charge was reduced from driving while intoxicated.

Judge Philip Carchman fined him $50 plus $10 in costs and ordered that his license be revoked for six months. Patrolman Anthony Gaylord was the complainant.

In other Township court cases, Henry T. Recke Jr., 18, of 22 Crescent Avenue, Rocky Hill, was fined a total of $20 for careless driving; and Stuart G. Fischer, of 31 Edwards Place, also was fined $20 for careless driving.

CLOSE WASHINGTON RD. For Resurfacing. Washington Road will be closed to northbound traffic from Nassau Street to the Borough line near Ivy Lane next Monday. Northbound traffic coming across Lake Carnegie will be detoured east or west on Faculty Road while workers resurface the Washington Road pavement.

One lane will be kept open for southbound traffic only.

FUND CHAIRMAN NAMED

For Mercantile Division. Kenneth A. Wells has been appointed chairman of the Mercantile Division for the Princeton Area United Community Fund-Red Cross Campaign for 1974, Fred Fields, campaign chairman, has announced.

Mr. Wells will be responsible for raising contributions from the more than 1,000 small business establishments in the area. It covers Cranbury, East Windsor, Griggstown, Hightstown, Kingston, Montgomery, Plainsboro, Princeton, Rocky Hill, West Windsor and adjacent areas of Hopewell, Lawrence and South Brunswick townships.

The 1974 campaign is scheduled to begin October 1 with contributions earmarked for the Red Cross and the 21 member agencies of the United Fund. "We are very fortunate to have a man of Mr. Wells' ability to take charge of this important division of the campaign," Mr. Fields said.

The United Fund-Red Cross goal is $645,000, or about 10 percent more than was raised in 1973, according to Mr. Fields. "Actual requests from Fund agencies and the Red Cross have totaled more than $750,000," he added.

A resident of the Princeton area for more than 20 years, Mr. Wells currently is serving as Chairman of the Princeton Chapter of the American Red Cross. He retired as Director of Research and Development for the Boy Scouts of America after serving 43 years with the organization in various capacities. He is Vice-President of Princeton Memorial Association and is a former President of the Princeton Unitarian Church.

A native of Portland, Oregon, Mr. Wells is a graduate of Reed College there. He and his wife, Jean, live at 61 Harriet Drive.

40 FRESHMEN DUE

For Special Orientation. Three weeks before most of their peers, some 40 minority-group freshmen will begin their studies at Princeton University next week as they undertake a special orientation program designed to aid their adjustment to college-level work.

Funded for the sixth year by the Educational Opportunity Fund of the State of New Jersey and from the University's own resources, the program is designed to offer a concentrated dose of mathematics, science, English foreign languages, and social science—as required—to young men and women whose secondary school preparation may have been weak in one or more areas. Minority students are invited to attend based on faculty and administrative study of their test scores and high school records.

The group arrives Saturday and will work through September 4 on better than a 2-to-1 basis with University faculty and undergraduate tutors. Six hours of daily classes will be followed by rap sessions with University administrators and others, study, recreational opportunities, and special programs. Trips to New York City and to the shore also are planned.

Mrs. Ollie Bryant, Assistant Director of Undergraduate Financial Aid, heads the Special Freshman Orientation program, assisted by Dr. Emory B. Elliott, Jr., Assistant Professor of English, and Della E. Britton, a senior from Pittsburgh, Pa.

Commenting upon success of previous similar programs here, Mrs. Bryant noted that academic achievement records of former participants at the end of the freshman year and the relatively low rate of drop-outs among the group appeared to justify the program. She also noted that, through a cooperative arrangement with the Office of Career Services, vocational counseling for this group can begin early in the freshman year.

"We hope to homogenize the experience these young people have had in chemistry, physics, and mathematics and to introduce them to the pace of the University and to university-level work in literature, social sciences, composition, and foreign languages," she commented.

Native Spanish-speaking and French-speaking staff members will be among 11 faculty and 16 undergraduate tutors working with the group. Participants are being housed in the Lourie-Love dormitory and will eat in Wilcox Hall.

CONSULTANT NAMED

In Search for School Head. The West Windsor-Plainsboro Regional Board of Education has selected Wendler Associates to serve as its consultant in the selection of a new superintendent of schools.

Wendler Associates is headed by Dr. Richard L. Wendler, a member of the graduate faculty of Glassboro State College. Dr. Wendler received a bachelor's degree from Pennsylvania State University, a master's degree from Columbia University,

Four-Way Race Coming

Voters in the Fifth Congressional District, of which Princeton is part, learned about a new candidate this week for the Congressional seat vacated by Peter H.B. Frelinghuysen. He is John T. Giammarco, taxi company official who lives in Middlesex. He's running as an independent under the American Independence party label.

Princeton is fielding two candidates in the Congressional race this fall. One is Frederick Bohen, victor in the June Democratic primary, who ran unsuccessfully for the Congressional seat in 1972. The other is Leonard F. Newton, executive with Response Analysis, whose candidacy was announced earlier this summer. He is running as an independent under the New Leadership banner.

The Republican primary victor, Millicent Fenwick, rounds out the slate of four candidates for the Frelinghuysen seat.

LION AND LIONESS: Henry II of England, and his queen, Eleanor of Aquitaine, will be played by Karl Light and Scotty Bloch in Summer Intime's production of "The Lion in Winter," opening this Thursday. Daniel F. Berkowitz is directing.

News Of The THEATRES

LAST PLAY...

"Lion in Winter." Summer Intime's last play for 1974 will be "The Lion in Winter," a recounting in contemporary language of a day in the life of Henry II of England, and his wife, Eleanor of Aquitaine.

"The Lion in Winter" will open this Thursday at 8:30 in Murray Theatre and will play Friday and Saturday at that hour and Sunday at 7:30. The same schedule will prevail the following weekend.

Karl Light, a former president of Theatre Intime as a University undergraduate, will play the part of Henry. Eleanor, the wife he's kept locked up for ten years, will be played by Scotty Bloch.

Both Mr. Light and Mrs. Bloch have appeared frequently on various Princeton stages. Mr. Light played Dr. Dorn in McCarter's recent production of "The Sea Gull," and is best known for his portrayal of Bertram Cates in the original production of "Inherit the Wind" on Broadway. Mrs. Bloch was Mary Tyrone in Theatre Intime's 1968 "Long Day's Journey Into Night," and was a member of the 1970-71 McCarter Theatre company.

Others in the case are Richard Ferrugio, who will play Richard the Lion Hearted, son of Henry and Eleanor; E. E. Norris, who will be Geoffrey and Mitchell Ivers who will play John, the two other sons of the royal couple.

Alais, the French princess who is Henry's mistress, will be Anne Louise Hoffman, and her brother Philip, King of France, will be Robert Schmon.

KURT WEILL

At Midnight Cabaret, "An Evening with Kurt Weill," this week's Midnight Cabaret, will be presented two evenings instead of one: this Friday, and this Saturday, both at midnight, both in Murray Theatre's downstairs cabaret. Doors open at 11:30.

Lee Dratfield and Russ Miceli are the stars. Lee Dratfield, well-known as a folk singer, appeared in the musical, "Jacques Brel is Alive and Well" at the Artists Theatre Showcase in Trenton last year. She has sung in Paris, Amsterdam, in Caribbean night-spnts and with bands on east and west coasts.

Russ Miceli appeared in Summer Intime's "Brel" evening earlier this summer. He's a member of the Mercer County Chorus and has played several entertainment places in this area and in New Hope.

The "Evening of Kurt Weill" is a review which the two performers have done in various theatres and clubs over the past year.

Tickets to the Cabaret are first-come, first-served and are available only at the door. Admission is $2, and refreshments are available throughout the show.

"THE END"

Of Film Series. Three old-time films will bring to a close Summer Intime's 1974 Film Series. All will be shown at 7:30 p.m. in McCormick Art Museum (air-conditioned) behind Murray Theatre. Tickets are $1 and the doors open at 7:15.

"Sherlock Holmes and the Secret Weapon," a 1943 thriller, stars Basil Rathbone, of course, with Nigel Bruce as Dr. Watson. The arch-villain this time is Lionel Atwill. "Holmes" will be shown on Monday.

"To Be or Not To Be," is Ernst Lubitsch's sparkler about a troupe of Polish actors trying to escape the Nazis. Jack Benny and Carole Lombard star. The film will be shown next Tuesday.

"Roman Scandals," with Eddie Cantor, is Wednesday's film. In this 1933 musical, Eddie is a man of modern times who gets knocked on the head and finds himself back in ancient Rome. Busby Berkeley did the dances, and thefilm was the screen debut of Lucille Ball.

MUSICAL TO OPEN

At Washington Crossing Park. Company Unlimited will present "Once Upon a Mattress" this Friday and Saturday and the following Thursday, Friday and Saturday, August 22, 23 and 24 in the Open Air Theatre at Washington Crossing State Park, N.J. Performances of the musical comedy spoof on the fairy tale of The Princess and the Pea will begin at 8:30 each evening. Rain dates are Sunday, August 18 and 25.

Ina R. Wilner is directing a cast of 25 who have performed throughout the Mercer County area. Leading roles are played by Barbara Dyett as Winnifred the Woebegone, David Tobiasz as Prince Dauntless, Donna Howell as Queen Aggravain, Stephen Metelits as King Sextimus the Silent, Marty Goebel as Lady Larken, Jack Friedel as Sir Harry, Terence Faherty as the Minstrel, Chip Gentles as the Jester and Tom O'Neill as the Wizard.

Supporting players include Mark Ackermann, Bill Cashel, Kevin Duffy, Jan Ellsworth, Mary Beth Faller, Rita Fitzpatrick, Gerri Fowler, Lisa Keyes, Richard Loatman, Diana Lunghi, Barbara Mendel, Kate O'Neill, Donna Quinter, Allan Salkin, Wendy Wilner and Jay Wise.

The whimsical tale which has been performed on Broadway and also adapted as a "special" for television will be performed in a medieval setting designed by Tom Krisanda and Nelson Atkins; costumes are by Diana Lunghi. Assisting Miss Wilner are Elaine Hagaman as musical director, R. Thomas Hagaman as conductor, and Chip Gentles as choreographer. Joy Metelits is assistant to the director, Jan Ellsworth is assistant to the choreographer and Gary Garofano is stage manager.

AUDITION...

For "Many Moons," Creative Theatre Unlimited has announced open auditnns for its production of James Thurber's fairy-tale, "Many Moons," to be given Saturday, September 21 and Saturday, September 28.

Auditions, with roles for five women and five men, will be held this Thursday at 7 p.m. at Christ Congregatinn, Walnut Lane and Houghton. Some of the parts are suitable for children between the ages of 10 and 14.

Amie Brockway, of the CTU staff, will direct. Rehearsals will be held weekday evenings during September. Additional information may be obtained by calling 799-1689 or 921-9165.

MONTOMGERY

Thunderholt and Lightfoot. For those who have enjoyed Clint Eastwood in his violence-ridden early movies, where Clint speaks and thinks with a blazing firearm and where the subordinate characters end up being carted off the screen in a hay wagon, "Thunderbolt and Lightfoot" may be a minor disappointment.

a theme in this film is Writer-Director Michael Cimino's self-conscious attempt to build Eastwood into a troubled soul, seeking to comprehend such concepts as life and death with a young drifter named Lightfoot, played convincingly by Jeff Bridges.

The opening scene is classic Eastwood—he's on the run from somebody and posing as a preacher. Guns start blazing at the most solemn part of the church service. But then Bridges enters to help Eastwood escape from two former gang members who think Clint has double-crossed them on a bank heist.

In some ways—probably too many ways—"Thunderbolt and Lightfoot" is like a "Midnight Cowboy" in a western setting. But that also may be the film's saving attribute, since the technical highlight turns out to be stunning photography in some beautiful Montana locations.

PLAYHOUSE

Mame. The lavish screen version of the Broadway musical hit with Lucille Ball as the life-loving Auntie Mame.

Miss Ball, probably the nation's most durable and beloved commedienne, skillfully blends the sophistication of Mame with ample doses of warmth and softness. If anything, she has so overlayed the character with chic that only rarely does the original eccentricity and spunkiness burst through.

And unfortunately, her singing voiced—undubbed—has a hard edge to it but Miss Ball's legions of fans will prnbably be enjoying the picture too much too notice. She is aided immeasurably by Beatrice Arthur, television's Maude, who provides a perfect note of bitchery to the proceedings as Mame's bosom buddy and superbly catty friend.

Robert Preston as the ill-fated Beauregard, Mame's rich Southern gentleman husband of a few years, is on the screen only a shortr time hut radiates a strong, attractive presence and is in fine voice.

Like its Broadway predecessor, Mame is hallmarked hv opulence and splashiness and should provide audiences with a warm glow and something to hum on their way home.

The Parallax View. Scene I, an audience-eye-view of the assassination of a presidential candidate atop the Seattle Space Needle. Scene II, three years later, a blue ribbon commission concludes its work by stating that the assassin acted alone, and was not part of any conspiracy or plot. If that sounds vaguely like the Warren Commission and the death of President Kennedy then Director Alan J. Pakula has started off on the right track.

What "The Parallax View" has that the actual horde of investigators second-guessing the Warren Commission did not have is super-investigative reporter Warren Beatty and a series of dramatic and puzzling events that make the conspiracy theory much more plausible.

Without giving away the plot we can say the Beatty's investigation leads him to a certain Parallax Corporation and that Beatty himself becomes a prime candidate for Parallax's rather unusual professional service. Beatty's performance is particularly fine, as is that of Hume Cronyn, the proverbial cynical editor. Their success will no doubt trigger other investigative reporter-as-hero films, especially in this post-Watergate era.

Authenticity of characters and sudden plot twists are the film's strong points. These are so strong, in fact, that one doesn't realize until after it is over that the film is marred by several plot inconsistencies and an obvious—but unfortunately unanswered—question.

PRINCE

California Split. Director Robert Altman calls this film "a celebration of gambling." Celebration? Well, maybe like the celebration of a Mass of Resurrection, and with not much more than a prayer at the end that the deceased or their survivors will ever escape purgatory.

The film is a double tracked view of the world of gambling, brought together on the screen by two characters who have as much in common as baccarat and bingo. Elliot Gould is Charlie Waters, a small-time bettor whose biggest pot is never quite enough to pay off his creditors. George Segal plays Bill Denny, a magazine editor and a gambler with major league ambitions: Reno's high rollers.

Charlie and Bill come together at the beginning of the film and are virtually inseparable thereafter as the film follows their exploits through several weeks of compulsive gambling. They hit the poker parlors, race tracks, seedy backrooms and barrooms and the big casinos. The scenes are punctuated with humor but the final message is grim. Even the winners are losers.

Altman supplies "California Split," with fine detail and an excellent supporting cast. Ann Prentiss and Gwen Welles play two women whose generosity borders on prostitution. Bert Remsen appears as aging transvestite in one hilarious scene. The fun times, however, like today's winnings, always seem certain to be undercut by tomorrow's bad luck.

PRINCE

Buster and Billie. Although it's uncomfortably reminiscent of some recent youth film disasters, and although its level of violence and frank photography may offend some viewers, "Buster and Billie" succeeds in portraying a moving and enjoyable parable of conformity among teenagers.

The setting is the rural Georgia farmland of 1948. Roads aren't paved yet; hair is short; teenagers use school buses to get to class and think they're lucky if they can talk the old man out of the family pickup for a Friday night date. Bottled beer and the local pool hall are the underpinnings of the social order.

The plot is based on the timeless troubles of teenage America. Buster, the high school star athlete and class leader played by Jan-Michael Vincent, has his life mapped far ahead. He'll marry the high school belle of the ball, naturally, and inherit his father's farm, naturally. But Buster is also an individual, ugh, and he follows an inexorable path into conflict with the crowd of which he is not a part.

Source of the trouble is Billie, Joan Goodfellow, the high school tramp who is abused by all the high school gang except Buster. Buster instead finds that she is a human being, not to mention a good looking blonde, and the rest is predictable. What isn't predictable is the reaction of his classmates and the violent and horrifying conclusion of this film.

The function of the Food and Drug Administration is to enforce the Federal Food, Drug and Cosmetic Act, and to protect us as consumers, as well as manufacturers and dealers. Much of the work of the Administration is done in field stations where more than 300 inspectors visit factories and processing plants and look for samples of products which violate the law. District offices maintain laboratories where samples of products are analysed. Research laboratories are located in Washington where work is done on more difficult problems.

Smoking marijuana limits the production of certain white blood cells that are involved in defending the body against virus illnesses, according to researchers at Columbia College of Physicians and Surgeons.

Would you believe diarrhea can be good for you? Seems it's nature's way to get rid of bacteria before they can multiply and make you sicker. In recent tests, those who took anti-diarrhea medication ended up with longer fevers and illnesses.

Doctors are emphasizing the dangers of cosmetic silicone injections. Substance can migrate within the body, change consistency and mask tumors.

Now that Turkey has stopped growing poppies (in the antinarcotics drive), drug manufacturers find a shortage of opium for medicinal use, and there is talk of growing the poppies in the U.S.

In the mid-1950s, after Hurricane Diane poured several inches of rain into the eastern United States, two 15-year-old boys and a Princeton Township patrolman who tried to rescue them drowned in flood-swollen Lake Carnegie. As a result of the tragedy, a campaign was launched to provide the Princeton First Aid Unit with proper equipment for use in combatting accidents in and around water. When the successful drive was completed under the direction of H. C. Sturhahn, the boat and accessories shown above were presented to the First Aid Unit at its headquarters in the firehouse of Princeton Engine Co. No. 1 on Chestnut Street. To mark the occasion, the organization changed its formal name to the Princeton First Aid Unit and Rescue Squad.

Identification has been provided for all but two of those pictured here. From left, they are Mr. Sturhahn, Tom McCluskey, Paul Alford, Father Francis V. McCusker (deceased), Rabbi Joseph H. Gelberman; an unidentified participant; former Mayor P. MacKay Sturges (deceased), Robert Hibbens, Tristam B. Johnson, John J. Golden (deceased), Raymond Rodweller, Russell Shangles, Robert McCloskey, Albert Toto, Sr., Carl Boheo, David McCluskey, Frederick Traegler (deceased), Andrew O'Hara, Robert Black, William Rodweller; another participant still unidentified; Elmer Rodweller and Joseph Tuoiog.

Not surprisingly, the photographer was Alan W. Richards, who officiated with his camera at most community gatherings of this kind for many years.

Sen. Case to Sponsor Anti-Inflation Measures Gauged to Lower Prices of Food and Crude Oil

We have to find a way to bring down unacceptably high rates of both inflation and unemployment without a further slowdown of our national economic growth. As I see it, there are two aspects to the problem—first, those areas where clear legislative options exist, and second, those areas where new questions confront us and where we need more information and possibly new approaches.

As to food prices, we need to tighten up both the marketing and supply systems. Accordingly, I am sponsoring legislation to set up a system of export control and licensing for certain agricultural commodities. Export controls should help us to avoid situations like that of last year when massive exports eventually led to a doubling of the price of wheat.

The Office of Technology Assessment, on which I serve as ranking Republican, has established a Food Advisory Panel. As a first step, the panel is gathering data for Congress on factors affecting food supply.

Oil prices are another of the most visible elements of inflation. I am sponsoring legislation, which I helped to develop, to provide a better balance of competition between the small independent oil companies and the large, multinational oil companies. Our bill would also regulate the price of oil at the wellhead, extend price controls to oil produced abroad, and roll back the price of domestically produced crude oil.

Congress has acted this year to create Budget Committees in both houses, along with a supporting budget office. Until now, fragmented congressional action on the budget has made it difficult not only to look at the whole

TWO ADDED TO STAFF

At Adlerman, Click. Mel A. Adlerman has announced two additions to the insurance division of Adlerman, Click & Company.

William P. Wilson, formerly of Lumley, Dennant & Co., a licensed insurance agent for almost 20 years, has joined the firm as Special Lines Manager. Mr. Wilson has widely varied experience in package insurance, specialty lines and commercial-industrial property.

Charles E. Azen has joined the firm as manager of the Life Department. Mr. Azen has been in the life insurance business since 1950, is an ex-agency vice president of a New York-based life company, is a member of the Million Dollar Round Table and is currently director of the Greater Newark chapter of the Society of the Chartered Life Underwriters Association.

Adlerman, Click & Company, 15 Spring Street, was established in 1927 and is one of the larger insurance agencies in central New Jersey.

BANK REPORTS GROWTH

Franklin State Rated 292d. Franklin State Bank of Somerset has received notification from the American Banker, the daily newspaper of the banking industry, that it is now the 292nd largest bank in the nation, Anthony D. Schoberl, president, said this week. Among 14,000 commercial banks in the United States, Franklin State advanced 86 places in rank in the past 12 months.

Franklin State, which just marked its 11th anniversary, reported resources of $333,767,616 as of June 30 and record income of $1,226,953 or 61 cents per share. The bank has declared its second consecutive cash dividend of 25 cents per share to stockholders during 1974.

question of spending priorities but also to review such basic economic questions as whether we should have a surplus, a deficit or a balanced budget.

Significant as these steps are, however, all of us recognize that some elements of inflation do not lend themselves to immediate action.

The Senate has already passed a bill, for example, to establish a National Commission on Supplies and Shortages. The legislation, now pending in the House of Representatives, charges the proposed one-year commission with two functions—to report on how to meet current shortages of raw materials, minerals, and farm goods, and to determine whether a permanent federal agency is necessary to monitor shortages in the future.

The possibility of shortages, in turn, brings to mind a broader question: Will the earth provide the resources necessary for an indefinite expansion of the kind of economic progress we have come to expect?

This is the kind of basic question I raised when I spoke on the Senate floor in June and again at the end of July in support of a resolution to create a Joint Economic Committee Advisory Board to study the unique combination of economic trends we now face and make recommendations to deal with both the short and long-range aspects of these problems.

The total rate of inflation is the sum of many parts—years of accumulated pressure for a "growth" economy, increasing worldwide affluence accompanied by rising worldwide demand, competition for dwindling supplies, a price-hike wage-hike spiral. Only by continuing to deal with the parts can we expect to bring inflation under control over a period of time.

REGISTRATION FACTS

For 18-Year Olds. To ease the Selective Service System registration requirement, now that the 49 New Jersey Local Boards have been assigned to a total of just seven sites, County Clerk William Falcey has made the services of his office available to all 18-year old men in Mercer County.

The registration procedure is simple and only takes a few minutes. Young men are required to register during the 60-day period beginning 30 days prior to their 18th birthday.

They may also register at many high schools and colleges, municipal buildings, and the area draft board office. Posters with mailer registration cards are also being distributed throughout the county to enable young men to register promptly by mail and fulfill their obligation uynder the law.

Further information may be obtained from the Mercer County Clerk's office, S. Broad St., Trenton.

BIBLE SCHOOL OPENS

At Witherspoon Church. The daily vacation Bible School of the Witherspoon Street Presbyterian Church will be held Monday through Friday of next week for children from nursery school through sixth grade. The hours will be from 9 to 11:30. The location will be the church and the facilities of the church and the facilities of the Princeton Youth Center. trained teachers and experienced church workers who will provide instruction in the Bible and its meaning in everyday life.

Registration is open to all. To obtain information contact the Rev. Floyd N. Rhodes Jr., pastor of the church, 924-1666; or Mrs. Ruth West, director, 924-3603.

OFFICE MOVED

Birthright now at 353 Nassau. Birthright of Princeton, which serves all of Mercer County, has moved to a new location at 353 Nassau Street.

Office hours are Monday through Friday 9 to 11; 1 to 3 and 7 to 9. Telephone calls to 924-7343 are answered at any hour. Birthright is an organization whose purpose is to find a positive solution for an unwanted pregnancy as an alternative to abortion.

County Airport to Be Improved At Cost Of $8.2 Million By '76

Mercer Freeholder Albert E. Driver, Jr. said this week that the development of a new terminal at Mercer County Airport is "a great step forward in assuring the economic growth of the total community." Following several years of discussion, the County Board of Freeholders has approved the $1.3 million construction project as part of its 1974 capital improvement program of $8.2 million.

The program calls for the completion of $4.4 million in improvements at the airport, including the airport terminal; $2.4 million in road construction and the construction of two ice skating rinks by the Park Commission which will cost more than $1 million. Mercer County will provide $3.7 million of the $8.2 million, with the remainder coming from State and Federal Aid and Revenue Sharing funds.

Mr. Driver said the terminal scheduled for completion in 1976, will be 25,000 square feet in size. It is estimated that it will produce about $90,000 a year in revenue to the county.

Other improvements planned for the facility in Ewing Township include $2 million in site work, $815,000 for runway resurfacing, $120,000 for resurfacing taxiways and $115,000 for a new fire engine. Mr. Driver said that about $2.3 million of the airport improvements will be financed by the Federal Aviation Administration. The county expects approval of this grant request in the near future.

Ransome Airlines, which operates commuter service at the airport, has announced that it will apply to the Civil Aeronautics Board for permission to fly regularly to Newark. Shuttle flights from Trenton to Philadelphia and Washington are available now.

The original airport terminal was destroyed by fire in 1969. The new facility has received a strong endorsement from the Trenton-Mercer County Chamber of Commerce.

VACANCIES REMAIN

On Bus Trip Next Week. A few places remain in Mini-Vacation Trip for Retired Persons to Silver Bay at Lake George, planned by the YMCA for August 22-25.

Mrs. Jenny Jackson, trip leader, reported that 46 have enrolled with a bus capacity of 49. The bus leaves early August 22 and will make a side trip to the Vanderbilt Mansion at Hyde Park.

Two days will be spent at the YMCA center for programs of boat rides, crafts, nature and music with a return trip on Sunday, August 25, stopping in old Kingston to tour that historic area.

Interested residents of this area should contact Mrs. Jackson or the YMCA office for details. Reservations close on Friday.

OBITUARIES

Albert G. Bruschini, 34, of 22 Elm Avenue, Bordentown Township, died August 9 in Hamilton Hospital, following an illness of two weeks. He was Production Manager for TOWN TOPICS and had played a major role in preparing its issues for publication since 1961.

Mr. Bruschini joined TOWN TOPICS last November, when the paper switched from letterpress to offset printing. The complete transition from hot to cold type was made within six days, the normal working time from one issue to the next. Much of the paper's ability to effect the changeover in a few days—in contrast to a matter of weeks allowed by other publications—was due to his efficiency and skill as Production Manager.

Prior to joining TOWN TOPICS, Mr. Bruschini was employed for more than 15 years by Merlo & Sons in Trenton. It was there that TOWN TOPICS was printed by letterpress until the conversion was made last fall. The bulk of the composition detail of every issue was the responsibility of Mr. Bruschini and his father, Albert A. Bruschini, who served for many years as shop foreman before his son succeeded him.

Born in Trenton, he was a graduate of Trenton High School. He was a member of the Roman Society.

Surviving are his wife, Sandra Holman Bruschini; four daughters, the Misses Cheryl, Cynthia, Corrine and Candace; his parents, Albert and Josephine Bruschini of Trenton; and two brothers, Ronald and Gary.

The service was held at the Brenna Funeral Home in Trenton, the Rev. John K. Cairns of the Capital Assembly of God Church officiating. Interment was in Greenwood Cemetery.

Clarence M. Minor, 70, of 71 Leigh Avenue, died August 7 in the Princeton Medical Center. He was a retired employee of the James Forrestal Research Center.

Born in South Carolina, he lived in Princeton more than 50 years. He was a chaplain of Witherspoon Lodge 178 of IPBOE.

Miriam Minor; one son, Clyde of Somerset; five sisters, Mrs. Thelma Hackley of Kalamazoo, Michigan, Mrs. Gwendolyn Smith of Teaneck, Mrs. Hortense Garretson of Franklin Park, Mrs. Vera Tate of Philadelphia and Mrs. Henrietta McCree of Detroit, Michigan; and three grandchildren.

The funeral was held in the Mount Pisgah AME Church, with the Rev. Howard Hunt of the Grand Chapel AME Church officiating. Interment was in Princeton Cemetery.

Mrs. E. Elizabeth Brian, 61, of 115 Taylor Terrace, Hopewell, died August 8 at her home. She was retired from the New Jersey Neuropsychiatric Institute in Skillman.

Born in Trenton, she had lived in Hopewell for nine years. She was the former secretary of the Ewing-Lawrence Sewer Authority.

Surviving are her husband, Frederick; one son, Thomas Le Goff, with the Army in Korea; one daughter, Mrs. Robert Laine of Brookfield, Wisconsin; two stepdaughters, Mrs. Donald Titus of Hamilton Square and Mrs. Ross Persons of Brant Lake, N.Y.; and four grandchildren.

The funeral was held in Hopewell. Interment was in Highland Cemetery.

Mrs. Hilda M. McCloskey, 77, of Montgomery Avenue, Rocky Hill, died August 11 in the New Jersey Neuropsychiatric Institute in Skillman following a long illness. She was employed at the Princeton Bank and Trust Company until her retirement in 1962.

A lifelong resident of Rocky Hill, she was also employed as a clerk-bookkeeper at Atlantic Terra Cotta Works in Rocky Hill. She was the widow of Barney McCloskey.

Surviving are three brothers, Harry and John Deitzel, both of Trenton and Theodore Deitzel of Rocky Hill; and one niece.

A Mass of Christian Burial was celebrated at St. Paul's Church. Interment was in Rocky Hill Cemetery under the direction of the Kimble Funeral Home.

Mrs. Eilleen Brennan Petrie, 47, of 32 South Main Street, Pennington, died August 10 in Mercer Medical Center.

Born in Trenton, she had lived in Pennington for the past 18 years. She was a member of the parish council of St. James Roman Catholic Church, Pennington.

Surviving are her husband, Kenneth E. Petrie; three sons, Thomas N., serving with the Navy, Keith R. and Timothy M.; two daughters, Catherine E. and Jane E., all at home; and one brother, John Brennan of Trenton.

The funeral was in Pennington. A Mass of Resurrection was celebrated at St. James Church. Interment was in the Wrightstown Friends Burial Ground, Wrightstown, Pa.

Mrs. Ruth Hurley Vaughn, a resident of Hopewell for many years, died August 12 in Point Pleasant Hospital. She had moved to Brielle in July after living in Hopewell for most of her life.

A registered nurse, Mrs. Vaughn was a graduate of Mercer Hospital School of Nursing. She had belonged for many years to the Mercer Medical Center Volunteer Aides.

Widow of Dr. Raymond W. Vaughn, she is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Judith West of Mantoloking; four brothers, Herbert V. Hurley of Rosedale; John H. and J. Arthur Hurley, both of Hopewell; and Wilbur Hurley of Cream Ridge; a sister, Mrs. Helen Terhune of Titusville and two grandchildren.

A private memorial service will be held Monday at the Cromwell Memorial Home, Hopewell, with burial at the convenience of the family. Contributions may be made to the First Presbyterian Church of Hopewell Memorial Fund.

Mrs. Barbara A. Szedula Zukas, 52, of 33 Titus Avenue, Lawrenceville, died August 10 in the Princeton Medical Center.

A former employee of the Bayer Aspirin Company, she was a member of St. Ann's Church and the Altar Rosary Society. She was also active in the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Lawrenceville Fire Company, the Notre Dame PTA and the Mayfield Guild of Rosemont College.

The funeral was in Trenton.

Miss Florence Martin Hopkins, 66, of 5 Church Street, Kingston, died August 9 in the Princeton Medical Center. She was a retired librarian.

Born in Southbridge, Mass., she lived in Kingston for the past 12 years. She received a bachelor of arts degree in 1932 from Western College for Women at Oxford, Ohio, and a bachelor of library science degree in 1939 from Columbia University.

She was the librarian for Educational Testing Service from 1960 to 1962. She was catalog librarian at the Newark College of Engineering for five years

---

Daughter of the late Dr. Louis B. Hopkins, former president of Walbach College of Crawfordsville, Indiana, she is survived by her mother, Mrs. Nora Lander Hopkins of Kingston; and her sister, Miss Margaret L. Hopkins of Kingston.

Services were held at St. Stephens Church, Middlebury, Vermont. The Mather Funeral Home made arrangements.

University Courses Now Open To Residents From This Area

A foundation grant will make it possible for Princeton University to initiate the Program for Special Students, a key part of the plan for continuing education that was approved by the Trustees last April.

The Program for Special Students is being established on an experimental basis to allow a limited number of qualified older residents of the area to study at Princeton. They may apply to take one or more regularly scheduled courses per semester, when space permits.

Special Students will participate in all aspects of the courses to which they are admitted. Their work will be graded and they will receive certificates upon completion of each course but they may not be candidates for degrees at Princeton.

Mrs. Mary I. Bonting, Assistant to the President for Special Projects, said staffing will proceed as expeditiously as possible but that it will be another month before Princeton's Center for Continuing Education will open at 5 Ivy Lane. In the meantime, all questions about the Program for Special Students or other aspects of continuing education at Princeton should be directed to her office at 216 Nassau Hall (452-6110)

"In view of the short time remaining before the fall semester," Mrs. Bunting said, "very few, if any, admissions, can be made until the second semester. However, individuals wishing to enroll as a Special Student may pick up an application form in Room 216 Nassau Hall, Monday through Friday from 9 to 1." The fee for a one-semester course will be $300.

NEW COURSES PLANNED

For Adult School Fall Term. Many new features are being added to the fall roster of courses offered by the Princeton Adult School, a nonprofit organization, designed to offer a means for area adults to continue their education via a wide spectrum of courses, from language arts to home tailoring and sewing.

This year, for the first time, a brochure offering more detailed information on the courses available and the instructors who will teach will be mailed to area residents in time to give them a chance to select the courses of their choice. Adult School Board members have been helping with the make-up, design and layout of the publication, which will be in addition to the advertisements that will be placed in newspapers.

To help the individual make course selections with greater ease, classes being offered are grouped under separate headings as: Worlds Together, Literature and Religion, Language Arts, Basic Education, Creative Arts, Home and Hearth, Special Skills, Recreation and Dance, and novelty courses that are listed under the title "Something Different." Registration times, the class schedule and other information are included in the booklet.

Typical of the new courses is a class entitled: "Probability: How to Take a Chance," a topical title for today's times. The course will be taught by Robert A. Bartolini of RCA Laboratories, who is in addition to his technical duties at RCA a college lecturer. According to the lecturer, the laws of chance can provide a better understanding of today's politics, tonight's card games or tomorrow's weather.

DAY HIKE PLANNED

For Wildlife Refuge. The Outing Club of the Princeton YMCA will sponsor a four to five-mile hike through the woodland trails of the 39-acre Princeton Wildlife Refuge this Sunday, beginning at 9:30 at the YMCA parking lot. Hikers will also walk past the Institute for Advanced Study pond, along and across Stony Brook, and to the Quaker Meetinghouse to visit the graveyard of soldiers killed in the Battle of Princeton and the grave of Richard Stockton, a signer of the Declaration of Independence.

Covering relatively flat terrain, the hike is recommended for new or out-of-shape hikers, including children, or for experienced hikers who want to break in new equipment. The hike will be cancelled in case of rain.

Hikers should bring their own lunch and drinking water. Hikers will return to the Y at about 4. For information call Carmen Duany, 924-1340.

SENIORS WELCOMED

To Arts Center Trip. The Princeton Recreation Department is sponsoring a trip for senior citizens who are residents of Princeton to the Garden State Arts Center next Wednesday. The program is "Max Morath and Your Father's Mustache."

Tickets and transportation are free, but limited to only 50. For information and reservations call the department, 921-9480, from 9 to 4. Out of town senior citizens are welcomed to put their names on a waiting list in case the trip is not fully booked by Princeton residents.

LUNCHEON PLANNED

For Senior Citizens. Senior Citizens are invited to attend the third annual Senior Citizens Luncheon sponsored by the Youth volunteers of the Princeton Chapter of the Red Cross. The luncheon will be held on Thursday, August 29, at 12:30, at the United Methodist Church on the corner of Nassau Street and Vandeventer Avenue.

Because of limited space, the number of guests will be held to 65, so reservations will be accepted on a first come, first served basis. Transportation can be provided for those who would otherwise be unable to attend, and should be arranged for at the time when reservations are made.

Senior Citizens wishing to attend are asked to call MaryAnn Fazio, Youth Director of the Princeton Red Cross, at 924-2404, weekdays between 9 and 4:30. Reservations will be accepted until Wednesday, August 21, or until the limit of 65 guests has been reached.

SERVICE TO EXPAND

More Bus Trips Planned. Application has been made to the Commuter Operating Agency of the N. J. Department of Transportation for approval to expand the existing Mercer Metro Bus service to Pennington and Hopewell.

Under the proposed plan, four trips will be added to Hopewell and 13 to Pennington during the midday hours. Up to this time, service to the two areas has been sharply curtailed during the day.

It is hoped that if this additional service, effective Thursday, September 5, is approved, it will encourage residents of that section of Mercer County to avail themselves of the increased public tranportation services now offered.

DAY CARE AVAILABLE

Starting Sept. 9. The Nassau Cooperative Nursery School has announced the start of its new day-care program for three and four year olds, to begin September 9 and run from 9 to 3, five days a week, following the calendar of the Princeton Regional Schools.

It will provide educational and play activities in the morning, a hot lunch and rest period in the afternoon. It will be coordinated with the regular cooperative nursery school program which will run from 9 to 12 each day.

Day-care parents will not be required to work on a rotation basis in the day care program. Since the school is a cooperative, however, all parents will be requested to help in the running of the school by serving on committees and helping with the maintenance of equipment.

Mrs. Vicki Pehta and Mrs. Trudi Venner, who have been teachers at the Nassau Cooperative for many years, will continue as head teachers. The nursery school, formerly at the Friends Meeting House, has now relocated at the Christ Congregation Church, 50 Walnut Lane.

Requests for more information about the new program can be made to Mrs. Pat Russo, 799-3173, or Mrs. Debbie Wolf, 882-8299.

FUND NAMES LOGAN

To Development Post. The United Negro College Fund Inc. has appointed Thomas W.S. Logan, 308 Emmons Drive, to the position of assistant area development officer in the New Jersey campaign. He will be concerned with the development of new territories in New Jersey and will assist the state director in the on-going campaign.

A graduate of Westminster Choir College with a bachelor of music in education, Mr. Logan is working toward a masters in religious education at the Princeton Theological Seminary. He was formerly assistant director of admissions at Westminster Choir College and was founder and conductor of the L.P. Hill Choral.

Mr. Logan's wife, Brenda, teaches music at the Little Brook School.

YMCA OUTING PLANNED

For Labor Day. The International Club of the Princeton YMCA is planning a Labor Day weekend outing to the Delaware Water Gap. The group will stay in youth hostels with all facilities, including cooking, for only $6 for two nights. Participants will also be asked to share in driving costs.

Reservations can be made by calling Sue Fish, 924-3476, or Hans Gerwers, 201-821-8315. The deadline is Tuesday.

Plans for the weekend include swimming, hiking, a barbecue, cycling, and canoeing and sailing. Rental of boats is extra. The barbecue scheduled for this Sunday has been cancelled.

LOAN FUND REPORTS

On Recent Activities. Women enrolled in four-year, accredited colleges who seek interest-free education loans may contact any member of the Memorial Loan Fund Committee of the Women's College Club of Princeton. Serving on the committee are Miss Jeanne Godolphin, Mrs. James F. Fleming, Mrs. William R. White and Mrs. Frederick C. Wightman Jr., chairman.

Loans without interest were first made by the Women's College Club in 1918 and continued until 1942. The making of loans was begun again in 1970 after the establishing of its Memorial Loan Fund.

The Fund is perpetuated by gifts in honor or in memory of any person, by both members and non-members of the Women's College Club, and by repayment of the loans. A memorial book containing the names of persons honored or memorialized by the Fund is kept by the College Club.

Underground Wiring Opposed

To the Editor of Town Topics:

The ordinance pending before the Princeton Township Committee whereby the electric power lines along the mile-long Bunn Drive leading to Princeton Community Housing are to be carried in underground conduits rather than strung on utility poles requires a lot more public discussion than it has received. The additional cost of setting the power lines underground for a distance of 5,000 feet is $80,000 and Township Committee proposes to assess this sum against five abutting property owners as a local improvement.

What is the objection to stringing wires and cables on tall utility poles? Apparently they are unsightly to some people and add no beauty to the environemnt. Neither do other works of engineering along a road.

What is so beautiful about a curb, a sidewalk, a bicycle path, or even a roadway with cars parked on the shoulder? Probably signposts, with their multi-colored traffic signs, are more visually polluting than creosote colored utility poles which often blend in with the nearby trees and foliage. The hundreds of useless "bus stop" signs that were plastered all over Princeton Township this spring have been more visually disconcerting than all the utility poles.

Along Valley Road, from Witherspoon Street to Harrison Street, there are 30 metal signposts bearing traffic signs, compared to 27 utility poles, of which 15 have street lights mounted on them, providing additional safety for motorists and pedestrians. Passing motorists hardly notice the utility poles which blend in with the surroundings.

At its meeting of August 5, the Township Committee opined that perhaps the $80,000 should not be assessed against the abutting property owners, but should be added to everybody's electric light bill, because the whole community was somehow going to benefit from having those electric power lines underground. I question whether putting the electric lines underground is worth $80,000 of anybody's money - abutting property owners, all taxpayers, or all users of electricty in Princeton.

Township Committee feels that putting power lines underground is the coming thing, and that eventually we may move all presently strung power lines underground. In Princeton Township there are about 500,000 feet of strung power lines along the roads.

At a cost of about $20 per linear foot it would take $10,000,000 of somebody else's money to put all power lines underground. This does not include the cost of replacing street lights on utility poles with lamp standards, nor the cost to the householder of changing the service entrance from overhead to underground.

To really assist Princeton Community Housing, Princeton Township Committee should forget about underground power lines on Bunn Drive and signal the electric power company to commence construction by the use of utility poles. With this type of construction, street lights could be provided on every other pole. The future residents of PCH would probably get more benefit from a well-lit Bunn Drive, than they would from a Bunn Drive free of utility poles but bearing other marks of engineering that go with our motorized civilization.

NOTICE

Letters to TOWN TOPICS' "Mailbox" should be typed, doubled-spaced, signed and received for publication no later than Monday. No letter will be printed without a valid signature and address. Letters longer than 500 words may be edited or omitted entirely, at the discretion of the editor. Letters on subjects not specifically related to the Princeton area may also be rejected.

"Raiders" Press On.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

ETS's letter to the editor last week asserting their desire to "cooperate with individuals and groups who are interested in knowing about ETS" did not coincide with the facts of their response to our attempt at public scrutiny.

Only July 7 the Educational Testing Study Group informed ETS President Turnhull of our study and requested a meeting with him in order to discuss the study and obtain permission to interview ETS employees. Upon calling ETS we were told that President Turnbull was on vacation and were referred to the Office of Information Services. After two phone conversations during which our requests for a meeting with an ETS representative were repeatedly denied, ETS responded to our letter more than a week later on July 16.

They did not mention our request to see Dr. Turnbull. (We later learned that the "vacationing" president of ETS had indeed been at ETS that day and had granted a lengthy interview to a New York reporter). Instead they demanded more detailed information on the study which we provided in a reply hand-delivered the very day their letter arrived.

On July 23 we met with three ETS representetives including the house counsel. He remarked that to give us access to corporate employees would be "suicide" and suggested that perhaps we should pay ETS for the privilege of asking them questions.

At this July 23 meeting, ETS promised to provide a written enumeration of conditions under which interviews would be conducted "as soon as possible, possibly by the end of the week." The following week ETS threatened to renege on their promise. On August 1 Mr. Nader sent President Turnbull a letter inquiring how the ETS response to delay and deception was consistent with Dr. Turnbull's oft-expressed concern with accountability and the traditional openness of American educational institutions.

One and Only. Four days later, on August 5, ETS granted us the first and, thus far, only interview session with officers and staff. President Turnbull expressed his desire to "facilitate the study all we can." He said of granting interviews for the study: "I don't think we want to have many conditions." The next day ETS presented eight conditions they would seek to impose on the interviews. This was the written enumeration they had promised exactly two weeks before.

Contrary to last week's ETS letter to the editor, their list did not include a request for more information on the study. It did demand that ETS be given the opportunity to review and edit the entire manuscript of our report before publication. ETS expressed concern that "unwarranted conclusions" might be drawn and suggested "two weeks for our (ETS) review and a minimum of three weeks for your review and change of copy." They graciously conceded that we would not be bound to accept their changes in the final report.

Allowing five hours of interviews in over five weeks and providing some of the publications requested (which we paid for) has been the precise extent of ETS cooperation so far.

A recent ETS publication asserts "Americans have always deemed education an area in the public interest and thus subject to public scrutiny." It goes on to claim that ETS is given such scrutiny by its self-perpetuating board of trustees. May we suggest that a $50,000,000 enterprise which subtly shapes the lives of millions every year should be subject to a scrutiny more public than that which the agents of its own closed corporation can provide.

A Plea for Crosstown 62

To the Editor, Town Topics:

If the Borough and Township have money to subsidize rides for the elderly (which I hope they do), please revive Crosstown 62.

It was truly a help to invalids going to doctors and shopping. We would be glad to pay more than we did. "Dial-a-ride" is good for the young, but not for the elderly.

TWO WINNERS NAMED

By W. Windsor Lions. John H. Bruestle and Ellen N. Stanton have been named winners of the West Windsor Lions Club's annual scholarships and have each received $100.

They were chosen from among ten students who have just graduated from high school. Each finalist was asked to write a 300-word essay on the subject, "The Responsibilities of the Educated Person in Modern Society." Based upon these essays, John, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Bruestle of Bear Brook Road, and Ellen, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Stanton of North Post Road, were presented with their checks.

ART SHOW PLANNED

At Shopping Center. Princeton Shopping Center will hold its fifth annual Art Show and Sale Saturday, September 14, from 10 to 5.

Artists can participate in six categories: oils, acrylics, water colors, graphics, mixed media and sculpture. Photography ,will be added this year.

A panel of judges will select winners in each category and professional winners will receive cash prizes. Gift certificates will be presented to non-professional winners.

Artists interested in exhibiting should contact "Art Show," care of Ray Bateman & Associates, 21 East High St., Somerville, N.J. 08876 for applications.

BIRTH LIST

HOUSING SURVEY SET

By Census Bureau. Households in this area taking part in the annual Housing Survey, conducted by the Bureau of the Census, can expect to be visited by Census representatives sometime during the next three months. This is the second year of the survey, which was jointly planned by the Census Bureau and the Department of Housing and Urban Development in response to a need for frequent and up-to-date data on U.S. housing, one of the nation's basic economic indicators.

The sample of housing units in the survey has been scientifically selected to represent a cross section of all housing units in the country. The sample was taken from 1970 census records and has been updated to include new construction.

Each household in the sample will be mailed an introductory letter prior to the visit by the Census Bureau interviewer. All information obtained by the Census Bureau is confidential by law and the results are used only to compile statistical totals in which no household or housing unit can be identified.

Each interviewer carries an official identification card with the bearer's photograph and signature. The interviewer in this area is Duane F. Martz, Hightstown Rd., Cranbury.

PEOPLE In The News

William E. Laing IV, minister of music and education at Judson Baptist Church in Walker, La., has completed graduation requirements at New Orleans Baptist Theological Seminary and received the master of religious education degree. The son of Mrs. Ruth V. Laing of Province Line Road, he graduated from Trenton Central High School and Trenton State College.

Roger H. McDonough, 43 Bainbridge Street, director of New Jersey's State Library, has been honored with a special citation by an awards committee of the American Library Association. At the ALA convention held in July in New York City, Mr. McDonough was presented with a plaque in recognition of his contributions to the national library group's Coretta Scott King Awards Committee. Mr. McDonough has been New Jersey's state librarian since 1947, and national president of the ALA since 1969. In Princeton he is a member of Zoning Board of Adjustment.

Kathy Lo of Princeton is first prize winner in the 1974 high school essay contest sponsored by New Directions for Women in New Jersey, the news quarterly covering the women's movement. She has been awarded $25 and a framed gold certificate.

Miss Lo, the daugher of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Lo of 102 Maclean Circle, has completed the 10th grade at Princeton High School.

Creative writing is only one of her major interests. Other hobbies are field hockey and softball, as well as studying the piano. The contest, on the theme "What do you think will be the future roles of women?" was open to all high school students in New Jersey.

Two Princeton students have been named to the Dean's List at Drew University. They are Julia A. Drueding, daughter of Mr and Mrs. Albert J. Droeding of 24 Jefferson Road, named for both semesters of her sophomore year; and Rebecca L. Moran, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Moran of 106 Broadmead, named for the first and second semesters of her freshman year

The U. S. Commission for the United World Colleges has announced the election of Frank E. Taplin as chairman, to succeed William H. Sword Mr. Taplin, of 55 Armour Road, is a Phi Beta Kappa graduate of Princeton in 1937. He was chosen a Rhodes Scholar at Oxford and received his L.L.B. from Yale Law School. He has served as President of both the Cleveland Orchestra and Cleveland Institute of Music.

In addition to the United World Colleges, Mr. Taplin serves as chairman of the Board of Trustees of Sarah Lawrence College. He is a director of the Metropolitan Opera and a Trustee of Lincoln Center in New York and the Institute for Advanced Study and Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship Foundation in Princeton. He is a director of the North American Coal Corporation and former chairman of the Board of Scurry-Rainbow Oil Ltd

The U.S. Commission for the United World Colleges, located at 82 Nassau Street, is one of nearly 40 national committees formed in support of the growing United World Colleges movement which has its International Council Headquarters in London.

Kathleen C. Mull, 40 Quaker Road, Princeton Junction, has graduated with a B.A. degree in psychology from Baylor University, Waco, Texas.

Three area residents have been named to new positions at Chicopee Manufacturing Company, the textile affiliate of Johnson & Johnson. Charles H. Plummer, Cherrybrook Drive, has been promoted to director of research. A native of Somersworth, N.H., Mr. Plummer earned a B.S. degree in electrical engineering at the University of New Hampshire. He joined Chicopee Research in 1941.

Promoted to senior project director for polymer research and computer services was Jeffrey R. Frazier, 22 Kendall Road, Kendall Park. He is a graduate of Pennsylvania State University and joined the company in 1970.

Alton H. Bassett, 73 Harriet Drive, has been promoted to director of nonwoven fabric research. A graduate of Middlebury College, Vermont, he joined Chicopee in 1958 as a project director.

Elizabeth Tregoe, 34 Heather Lane, was a participant along with more than 1,000 other students and teachers in a week-long American Suzuki Institute at the University of Wisconsin, Stevens Point. The program involved the study of stringed instruments--violin, piano and cello--in a system of instruction advanced by Dr. Shinichi Suzuki of Japan.

Mrs. Gloria E. Seitz, 335 Jefferson Road, a business education teacher at Princeton High School, attended the biennial convention of the Delta Kappa Gamma Society, the international honorary organization for women educators, last week in Seattle, Washington. Mrs. Seitz is the immediate past president of the Gamma Chapter in Mercer and Hunterdon counties.

SPORTS FANS!
I BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW

Brought to you
By John Bernard

One of the most amazing golfers of all-time was a little-known man named John Montague who, during the 1930's developed some of the most fantastic feats ever seen on a golf course...He was able to hit moving targets with a golf shot, and one time he shot an 80 over 18 holes using a shovel, rake and baseball bat instead of conventional golf clubs!...Playing seriously he once shot a 58 at a Palm Springs club, bettering the course record by seven strokes...He was probably the greatest shot control artist in the history of the game, but is hardly remembered today.

Has any big league baseball team ever been able to stay in first place EVERY DAY from opening day till the end of the season?...Only two teams in history accomplished this...They were the 1923 Giants and the 1927 Yankees.

What would you say have been the biggest upsets in sports history?...A national sports service recently took a survey and here are their picks...In football, the Jets beating the Colts in the 1969 Super Bowl...In baseball, the Braves, coming from last place on July 4, 1914, to win the pennant that year...And in golf, a 20-year old unknown ex-caddy, Francis Ouimet, winning the 1913 U.S. Open.

I bet you didn't know that young couples should have our excess major medical insurance. If a child comes down with rheumatic fever, it can devastate the family's income forever. Here's the premium for a couple age 30 with two children--$88.35.

Giants or Eagles Will Win Here on August 31, But Charities Jaycees Help Are Likely Losers

Although there is no doubt that the football game between the New York Giants and the Philadelphia Eagles will be played in Palmer Stadium on Saturday, August 31, as scheduled, indications are clear that the 13th contest in the series here may be an unlucky one for the New Jersey Jaycees as sponsors and the numerous charities which the proceeds benefit.

The 14-day moratorium on the strike in the National Football League which went into effect this week can conceivably result in a settlement between the Players' Association and the 26 club owners before the game takes place. There is also the possibility that a sufficient number of veterans will again withdraw from active participation on Wednesday, August 28, once more leaving both teams with a mixture of rookies, free agents and veterans who oppose the strike.

Whatever develops, neither the Giants or the Eagles will be anywhere near the stage of development that has been achieved for these late August games in the past, and a degree of adverse fan reaction is inevitable. This comes on top of the fact that, whereas early games in the series were rock-bottom sellouts, a combination of the Giants' inability to remain a contender in NFL action and the atmosphere of sub-par performances that pervades many an exhibition game in all professional sports has left seats vacant in the Stadium in recent years.

Spectator belief that golf, tennis, the beach, the ball park or the race track are all preferable to this year's NFL exhibitions has already made itself felt. A fortnight ago, the Los Angeles Rams played to 25,000 in their first game--less than a third of the normal SRO crowd.

17,000 No-Shows. At Foxboro, Mass., Sunday night, the Giants and the New England Patriots drew an announced crowd of 17,000. Another 17,000 had purchased tickets but asked for refunds when the strike had continued, and the loss at the gate amounted to $125,000. If the proceeds were marked for charitable purposes, such beneficiaries would be the first to feel the loss, because game expenses, including each club's guarantee of the gate, would receive the initial dollar allocation.

The Jaycees may have further complicated their problem by eliminating the lowest price range for tickets to the game here. When it was originated in 1962, the three-tier scale ran $3, $5 and $7.

Inflation inevitably had its effect, and the top price was gradually raised to $9. This year, however, there are only two choices for fans--$9 and $6.

Meanwhile, the Giants and Eagles have at least been in action twice, winning one of the four games in which they have played. New coach Bill Arnsparger saw his operatives lose to Houston, 16-7, as he handled the Giants for the first time since leaving Don Shula's staff in Miami.

This week, however, his team outscored (21-6) the personnel that the New England Patriots could muster, and the Patriots earlier had topped the personnel that the Washington Redskins could field. The latter, however, are a whole lot shorter of top grade material than most NFL teams are at this point in the meaningless exhibition season.

Where To Buy Tickets

Tickets for the Giants-Eagles football game on August 31 may be purchased from any member of the Princeton Jaycees or by telephoning (609) 443-3344.

Inquiries may also be addressed to the Jaycee Football Classic, Box 1974, Hightstown, N.J. 08520. Tickets are priced at $9 and $6.

Randy Johnson Stars. The Giants benefitted largely in their win over the Patriots from the presence of quarterback Randy Johnson, who thinks--with some reason--that he should have the starting assignment over Norm Snead. To emphasize his thinking, Johnson has signed with Hawaii in the new WFL, and many a Giant fan feels Arnsparger will make a major contribution to the New Yorkers' success in his first year if he can talk Johnson out of jumping to the other league.

Against the Patriots, Johnson took the Giants better than 80 yards the first time they got the ball, and 93 yards in the final quarter for another TD. Sandwiched in between was a kickoff return the length of the field credited to Larance Jones, a Northeast Missouri State alumnus who reportedly can cover 100 yards in 9.4 and looked as if he had Sunday night when he led his nearest pursuer into the end zone by 15 yards.

Other Giant rookies are undoubtedly equally content that they are getting so much more playing time than first-year men have in the past. Among them is an Ivy Leaguer, 6-5 Don Clune of Penn, who is given a good chance of making the 47-man roster which will survive the final cut. Seven of that number will, of course, be on the taxi squad.

While the Giants have been splitting with Houston and New England, the Eagles have dropped a pair of games to the Atlanta Falcons and the Cincinnati Bengals. If the twn teams are at relatively even strength in Palmer Stadium, the Eagles should rank as a slight favorite. A year ago, the Giants whipped them here, 42 to 21, but after winning all six nf their exhibition games, the New Yorkers and their fans endured a miserable regular season, while Roman Gabriel came out of the west to quarterback Philadelphia to a highly respectable showing which included a pair of triumphs over the Giants.

CONTE-STAATS VICTOR

Wins Softball Playoffs. A 10-3 triumph in the fourth game of a best-of-five series last week gave Conte-Staats the 1974 championship in the Adult Softball League sponsored by the Princeton Recreation Department. Earlier this summer, the team had finished first in the regular-season standings, so that action last week marked the first team that one entry had won both the league title and the palyoff championship.

Ivy Inn had recorded an 11-7 victory in the second game of the series to even the standings after Conte-Staats won the first, 5 to 1. When the latter pounded out a 20-7 triumph in the third contest, Ivy was on the verge of elimination, and Conte Staats opened the trap door Tuesday with a decisive 10-3 verdict.

The victors lost no time in pointing the way to the eventual outcome as Chuck Schaub and Rob Staats drove in a run apiece to give their team a 2-0 lead after one inning. The margin was doubled in the oext roond oo hits by Frank Cawley, George Cirullo, Mark Hassan and Jack Roberts.

Ivy meanwhile was having difficulty at the plate and potential scoring outhorsts were further stifled hy fine defensive plays in the outfield credited to Tom DeVito and Billy Staats. Conte-staats then raised its margo to 5-0 with three more in the fourth.

Walter Brower tripled in the fifth to give the losers their first run but Conte-Staats' power at the plate kept the scoreboard busy, and with three Ivy outs left, the score was 10 to 1. Hits by Rich Volz, Dick Young and Walt Brower were instrumental in a two-run outhorst for Ivy but the game ended on a quick double play executed by Nick Panicaro and Wes Cawley.

PLAYOFFS UNDER WAY

In Business Softball. The final week of the regular season ended for the Princeton Business Softball League with ooly two changes in the top eight teams from the beginning of the season. The first eight teams in the league standings will now go on to three weeks of playoffs, with Educational Testing Service again the odds on favorite to take it all.

Educational Testing Service ended its regular season by trouncing Cities Service Research, 15-4. Winning pitcher Bones Gilbert and team-mate Willie Turner gave a 3-5 performance at the plate, but Bill Degler bested them with a 3-4 night. ETS is facing Forrestal Research Center in the first round of the playoffs after ending the season where it started, in first place.

McGraw Hill's Ang Vasti pitched and batted his team to an 8-2 win over the First National Bank of Princeton, maintaining sole possession of second place. Vasti threw a five-hitter, while batting a perfect 3-3, and leads his team against NAPLC in the quarter-final round playoff.

Firmenich moved into third place by downing Forrestal Research Center, 12-5, on a home run and 3-3 hitting by Rom Hummer. Winning pitcher Bob Elkins and Bill Faulkner both had 3-4 nights at the plate to cap the game for Firmenich, which meets the First National Bank in the playoffs.

Forrestal also played a make-up game against Geophysical Fluid Dynamics Labs last week, and won 7-6. Tom Wonderlich and Tom Rzuczek both had perfect 3-3 batting, giving the edge to pitcher Jack Parto. Ted Terpstra hit a four bagger for GFDL.

RCA (A) won by forfeit from United Jersey Banks because of a lack of UJB players, giving RCA (A) foorth place. It will meet Cities Service Research in the playoffs.

ERC finished a disappointing season by downing American Cyanamid, 12-5, with the powerful hitting that has marked ERC's victories. Mike D'Angelo had a 3-4 night with a homer, and Don Jablonnwski put another one over the fence for the winners. Ned Dernssett was 3-3 to assure the victory for pitcher Bob Heinz.

A Bud Moxim home run helped pitcher Mel Rosenstien of Geophycial Fluid Dynamics Labs defeat Princeton Day School, 8-4, and National Computer Analysts continued its winniog ways hy squeezing by RCA (B), 11-10. Steve Giannone hit a homer in a 3-4 performance, and Lee Campbell matched Giannone's 3-4 hitting. Pat Hutton was the winning pitcher.

Pitcher Stan Cygan pot in another strong night for North American Phillips Lighting to lead it to a 6-2 win over Ingersoll Rand Research. Kevin Mullins and Bobby Schantz put in matching 2-4 nights at the plate to end the regular season for NAPLC.

The final standings for the Business Softball League, with the first eight teams in order according to number of runs scored:

In County Softball. Center Sports eked out two one-run victories over B & B Janitorial Supplies to win the Mercer County 'B' Slow Pitch League-the first Princeton team to win a county softball tournament in eight years.

Center Sports hitters had a field day as the team won its first four games at Mercer County Park. Then it ran into B & B and a series of one-run games that decided the double elimination tournament. Center lost to B & B, 5-4, but then fought back for 4-3 and 3-2 victories and the championship.

Hitting was center's strength, as the team batted .455 collectively, with 129 hits in 283 at bats. Center scored 84 runs in its eight games.

Leading the Center hitters was Brendon Layton, with a .548 average. Following him were Ren Scott, .530; Dave Claghorn, .518; and Jamie Petrone, .515. Center Sports pitcher LuJohn Rossi was voted MVP of the tournament.

Greg Kline, Jack Petrone, Dave Sweeney and Jamie Petrone all homered for the wioners. Jamie Petrone also slammed four triples.

SWIMMERS PLACE

In Eastern Regionals. Princeton Aquatic Association's Martha Kinney, of 71 Fackler Road, Lawrenceville, placed third in both the 100-meter and 200-meter backstroke events at the Eastern Regional Championships, in national AAU qualifying times of 1:10.6 and 2:31.9, respectively. The Eastern Regionals were held at Brown University last month.

Other top finishers from Princeton Aquatic Association were Robert Heldt (7th in the 100-meter hackstroke and 10th in the 200-meter hackstroke; Andy Bolster (6th in the 100-meter hackstroke, 1:13.2); and Peter Maniere (12th in the 100-meter breaststroke, 1:14.2).

The quartet of Rob Heldt, Andy Bolster, Jim Bolster and Boh Holdemaker finished 10th in the 400-meter medley relay in the time of 4:22.

STRAIGHT SET WINNERS: Lele Forood and Charles Johnstone (left) captured the 1974 Princeton Mixed Doubles championship when they defeated Nina Moyer and Gerald Skey, 6-4, 6-2.

MIXED DOUBLES WON

By Florida Pair. Lele Forood and Charles Johnstone, Florida residents who are teaching this summer at a tennis school in Hightstown, won the Princeton Mixed Doubles title from a field of 61 teams. They triumphed in the finals over Nina Moyer and Gerald Skey, 6-4, 6-2.

In the semi-finals, Forood-Johnstone quickly took the match from Joyce Greenberg and Carl Witonsky, the no. 2 seeds, 6-0, 6-0. Moyers and Skey won over Princeton University students, Julie Kirkham, no. 2 varsity player, and Jeff Oakes, also a varsity player, in the quarter-final round, 6-1, 1-6, 6-4. Moyer and Skey barely slipped into the finals by beating Connie Fleming and Bill Schmidt, last year's winners, 3-6, 6-3, 7-6.

Forood and Johnstone had their toughest match right at the onset, meeting last year's finalist, Carla Gaiser, and her strong partner, Igor Kebetz. They won the only three-set match demanded of them, 6-4, 4-6, 6-2. Because of a late entry, Gaiser and Kebetz were unseeded, and as the luck of the draw would have it, met the strongest team in the tourney.

Other teams reaching the quarters were Joyce and Charlie Clark, Bailey Symington and Al Hollander, and Helen and Harrison Fraker.

TENNIS RACES TIGHT

In West Windsor. With the season exactly half over in the West Windsor Recreation Commission's annual summer evening doubles tennis league, all three leagues still are tightly bunched.

In the women's doubles, two teams, the "Volleys" and the "loves," are tied for first with six points each. Although the "Volleys" (Derrith Kavanaugh, Kathy Murray and Richela) suffered their first loss of the year to the "Dueces" (Gretchen Cavitt, Deborah Nyce and Emily Hunter) by scores of 6-1, 8-6, they retained their first place tie along with the "Loves."

The "Loves" (Peg Miller, Jean Keller and Jill O'Donnell) had their game postponed because of rain. Three teams, each with four points each are tied for third place: the "Sets" (Donna Smith, Bellena Keleman and Ann Nook); the "Dueces" (Gretchen Cavitt, Deborah Nyce and Emily Hunter) and the "Faults" (Dixie Curtice, Pat Fallon and Phyllis Sobelman).

The men's early doubles league still has the undefeated "Mets" leading with eight points. The "Mets" (Gordon Hart and Bernt Midland) defeated the "Giants" (Bob Nielsen, Ted Peck and Fred Schott), 6-2, 6-2.

Three teams are tied for second with six points each: the "Cubs" (Jay Sexton, Ed Jordi and Sam Shuren); the "Phils" (Rick Gordon, Janis Ziedonis and Tony Zuccarello); and the "Braves" (Nick Rzewsky, Pat Summers and Bob Zochowski).

In the late men's league, the "Yanks" had their undefeated season ended by the "Orioles" in a very close match, 4-6, 6-3, 6-4. The "Yanks" (James Chu, Ray Giudice and Larry Kole) still are in first place with seven points. The "Orioles," although in fifth place with four points, had enough power to overcome the leaders. Jack Lee, Gene Renna and Bill Schneider make up the "Orioles" team. Tied for second place are the "Padres" (Bob Halpin, Jim Carroll and Harry Wyckoff) and the "Senators" (John Perlitz, Lew Coleman and Garland Asher) both with six points.

FALL TENNIS PLANNED

By Community Program. The Princeton Community Tennis Program has made plans to schedule fall tennis classes.

A six-week outdoor session will start the week of September 9 and continue through October 18. Instruction will be available for advanced beginner and intermediate boys and girls, 4th through 12th grades. A full range of adult classes is also being offered for this six-week period.

Fall indoor classes start in October with lessons for both juniors and adults, beginners through advanced players. Groups will meet either in the Community Park Inflatable or the Princeton Indoor Tennis Center on Washington Road.

Complete details for the fall outdoor session and the fall indoor session are carried in the Community Program's fall brochure now being mailed. The brochure also gives full information for court rental of the Community Park School Inflatable.

Anyone not on the Program's mailing list and wishing to receive a copy should send in a request with name and address to the Community Tennis Program, 71 University Place. Copies can also be obtained from any sporting goods store in the area, the Recreation Office or from physical education teachers at schools.

Jeff Lyle defeated Dan Aronovic in three sets, 6-1, 6-7, 6-3, to win the Boys' 16-and-under division of the Junior Tennis Championships. This match completed the tournament sponsored by the Princeton Recreation Department and the Community Tennis Program.

WINNERS NAMED

In Club Tournament. Winner of several tournaments at the Nassau Racquet and Tennis Club have been announced.

The new Men's Singles Champion is 16-year old Alex Davidson, who defeated Roger Schwartz in a closely fought 6-4, 6-4 final. Joyce Clark successfully defended her clay court crown with a 6-1, 6-4 win over Rosemary Lewis.

Davidson teamed up with Terry Brown to take the Men's Doubles title from Mark Knowlton and Ronald Buhler in an exciting three-set match. A Mother-Daughter team of Kathy and Peg Warner captured the Women's Doubles championship from Carolyn Camper and Nancy VanderVoort.

In the club's perenially strong mixed doubles field, Mark and Merry Knowlton won a 6-3, 6-3 match over Roger and Gloria Schwartz. The Junior Champion is Steve DeVries, who won a hard fought three-set final over Nicky Donath.

The outdoor season will end the last two weekends of September with the sanctioned Invitational Tournament, which has received many entries from ranked Middle States and Eastern players. The public is invited to watch the matches.

SWIM TRIALS PLANNED

For YMCA Flying Fish Teams. The YMCA Flying Fish Swim Teams will hold try-outs the week of September 9. The Flying Fish will compete in the Northern New Jersey YMCA Swim League and selected A.A.U. Meets during the year.

All boys wishing to swim should report to the YMCA at 7 p.m. on September 9 to fill out cards and participate in time trials for their two best strokes. Girls should report on September 10 at 7 p.m. for their time trials.

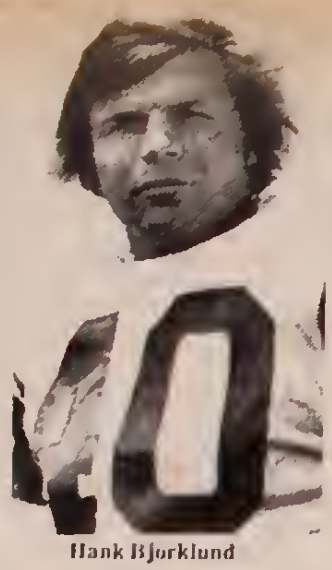
Try-outs for the boys and girls diving teams will be held on Wednesday, September 11, at 8:30 p.m. Any boy or girl between 7 and 17 is eligible for the Flying Fish. For more information, call the YMCA at 924-4825.

VOLUNTEERS SOUGHT

For Bowling League. The West Windsor Recreation Commission is seeking adult volunteers from the community to assist in the Youth Bowling League, which has been sponsored for the last three years.

The volunteers will assist Peggy Ellery, bowling chairman for the West Windsor Recreation Commission, who will need one or two adults in attendance at each bowling session. If sufficient volunteers are recruited the Commission will make arrangements for two bowling leagues on each Saturday, so that every interested youth can participate.

The league will run 10 weeks and will include students in grades six through high school. With sufficient adult volunteers, it might be possible to include fifth grade students. Mrs. Ellery can be reached at 924-8822. Volunteers can also leave their names and phone numbers at the Township Municipal Office, 799-2400.



Hank Bjorklund

BJORKLUND IN CAMP

Veteran Ignores Strike. Hank Bjorklund, a standout running back at Princeton from 1969 to 1971, reported on schedule to the New York Jets this summer, ignoring the NFL Players' Association strike against the club owners.

As a result, he has received more playing time than usual in the Jets' first two exhibitions. The games were divided, the Jets defeating the Denver Broncos but losing to the San Diego Chargers in the new sudden-death overtime period which will be used by the NFL this season.

Bjorklund has averaged better than four yards a carry and has two pass receptions to his credit. He'll return to a familiar spot Saturday when the Jets take on the New York Giants in the Yale Bowl.

More Artificial Snow

Plans are under way for the Mercer County Park Commission to purchase its own electrically-operated equipment for making artificial snow at the Belle Mountain Ski Area. The county had previously rented equipment, which was operated on diesel fuel.

"It's more economical to own than rent this type of machinery," said Richard J. Coffee, Park Commission President. "In addition," he continued, "we'll avoid being affected by a fuel shortage of the type that prevented us from operating Belle Mountain last winter."

The equipment is expected to go out for bids within the next few weeks.

60 HARRIET DRIVE

Nestled among beautiful trees and lovely sheltering greenery on a quiet ½ acre sloping down to a running brook—sounds like a country hideaway doesn't it. Actually this pretty 3 bedroom, 2½ bath ranch house is on a small street a half block from the NY busline! Entrance hall, attractive living room with fireplace and good-sized dining ell, cozy panelled study, and kitchen with efficiency plus eye-appeal—all are big enough for comfort, not too big for easy care. Extras include split cedar fencing for almost total privacy, electronic air cleaner, humidifier, central air-conditioning. Now hear this! Last season's heating bill was a mere $170! Asking $74,500

1820 CARRIAGE HOUSE

Imaginative and intriguing young family home, set on one of the prettiest acres we've seen! Entrance hall, marvelous big living room with beamed ceiling, huge stone fireplace, dining area; den, playroom, 4 bedrooms, 2 baths. Gorgeous trees, orchard $69,500

LIGHT AND LOVELY

This Thompson designed Colonial--with its deep and numerous windows letting in sunshine, light and a pretty pastoral view--is pristine, cheerful, and delightful throughout. The large living room--with French doors out to the pleasant split-rail fenced 1½ acres--and the matching master bedroom above both have three-way exposures and nice fireplaces. Welcoming flagstone-floored entrance hall, well-proportioned dining room, cozy den (also with French doors), 3 more airy bedrooms, 2½ baths and sunny modern kitchen with fine working space and eating area round out the thoroughly attractive living space.
The Lawrence Township location, only 12 minutes from Nassau St., is just far enough out to feel like country but close enough to be comfortably accessible and pleasantly neighborly. All this and lower taxes at an "across the Princeton line" price of $82,500!

BUILD HERE AND NOW!

Perfect spot for unique woodland hideaway. NW Township 2 acre site highlighted by dramatic boulders and tall trees. Sewer, water. Exempt from building moratorium.

Classic Federal Estate in Cranbury

Situated in one of the most sought after villages near Princeton is a marvelous classic federal house on an estate size property of almost four acres. Lovely delicate frescoes enhance the inner beauty of this mansion from the graceful wide centerhall to the formal living room and dinner party-size dining room. A separate library is situated just a few steps from the completely modernized enormous kitchen with eat-in area. Upstairs, are four comfortable bedrooms and a separate master suite or apartment. Complete with a two stall barn in the rear and plenty of room to raise horses. A decorator's dream at a price that will leave you astounded. $79,000

Between the Golf Course and the Millpond

Imagine yourself relaxing on a wintery day with a crackling fire in the massive fireplace of this spacious four bedroom colonial just a short distance from Pike Brook Country Club and a bicycle ride away from scenic Bridgepoint Millpond. Cheerful formal living room, elegant slate foyer, and dining room, rustic family room and kitchen, great master suite and closets galore. Besides all of this count on a friendly Montgomery neighborhood where you can enjoy the best in country living. $69,900
Seventy five percent mortgage available to the qualified buyer.

French Innovation in Cranbury Manor

This Gramercy Multi-Level, a French innovation in design, combines the advantages of a colonial two story with those of a bi-level and split level. A covered front portico opens into the entrance foyer which leads up three steps to the living room and guest closet. The next level, up three steps, has a full size dining room overlooking the living room and a veranda off the eat-in kitchen. Three family-size bedrooms are conveniently close by. The lower level comprises a fourth bedroom or study, a large family room with glass doors to the patio; a combination laundry room and powder room, a 28 foot 1 car garage, and a basement. First time offered $51,500

On The Way To Honeybrook Lake

Colonial countryside charm is what this rural estate-like property near Hopewell Valley Country Club is all about. Beamed ceilings are the theme from the graceful living room with corner fireplace and gorgeous bay window, through the cozy den with hearth, to the extensive dinner party-like dining room, and finally to the rustic completely modernized country kitchen. You should see the beautiful hand-made cabinets in the kicthen! Upstairs, are four or five comfortable bedrooms one of which has a working fireplace. The outbuildings include a cabana for the in-ground sylvan pool, a separate heated office with adjoining woodshed, a two story barn, a workshop and a quaint little spring house where Honey Lake gets started. $94,900

Grandview Dutch Colonial

This one of a kind brick front Dutch Colonial is luxurious throughout from its grey slate foyer to its Rosewood panelled family room with massive raised hearth and bay window view of the wooded landscape. The magnificent view from the picture window in the formal living room overlooking the valley is complemented by the wide angle bay window exposure in the elegant dining room. The extensive eat-in kitchen is custom crafted from its neat colonial cabinets to its butcher block cutting surface. Upstairs, are four comfortable bedrooms including a master suite with dressing area and walk-in closet. Centrally air conditioned, central vacuum, and a superb view for $82,900

Robert Frost in Griggstown?

The owners say that they bought this home because of the trees, which shade the cottage and create a sylvan canopy even at noon. As if this were not enough again. . .you should see what they've done with the pretty little house under the canopy. The birch covered living room is warmed by a huge hearth, the kitchen has been tastefully updated in a woodsy manner, and a family room has been carefully winterized looking onto the wooded splendor. There are two comfortable bedrooms, and a full bath, and room for more if you care to add on. We can't help but wonder what kind of person will come forth to find this peaceful abode. $42,900

P.S. We also have a gently sloping beautiful building lot of 2 plus acres backing up to a brook and woods in Griggstown. In the low twenties. Excellent for a contemporary
